50 Costly Dresses Taken With 100 Pair Hosiery By Daring Burglars

SO. CAL. DRAGNET LET DOWN BY AUTHORITIES

Tracks Left By Truck and Mexican Newspaper Lone Clues Yet Unearthed

While Santa Ana police today threw out a Southern California dragnet in a determined effort to apprehend the daring "silk bandits," who last night forced entrance to the Paris Fashions, 308 North Broadway, and stole fifty valuable dresses and approximately 100 pairs of hosiery, Mrs. O. Berrien, manager, checked the store's loss, estimated at more than $1500.

A Mexican newspaper, dated August 11, and a hack saw, left on the floor near the rear of the establishment, were the only clues left behind by the burglars who, apparently having the "job" well planned, sawed a large hole in the back door to gain entrance.

Police were of the opinion that the "silk burglars" waited until after midnight to break into the store as persons who were in the billiard room, located directly below the Paris Fashions, said they heard nobody in the room above.

Tracks left by the wheels of a truck were detected at the rear of the store. The burglars evidently loaded their loot into this truck.

The dresses, some cloth, but mostly silk, were removed from hangers, according to Mrs. Berrien. The hosiery was taken from boxes, she said.

In a statement issued last night on the eve of the registration of the first of some 8,000 new students, President W. W. Campbell gave as his opinion that hazing is all right so long as the hazing does not transgress the limits of good sportsmanship and carry things too far.

Alabama Gives Mere Man 'Equal Rights'

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 17.—The Alabama house of representatives went on record today favoring "equal rights for men."
The legislative body passed a bill giving men, as well as women, the right to obtain a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

A section providing for abolishment of rolling pins was defeated.

BLAZE AGAIN THREATENING BIG RESERVE

Fire Fighters Along 15-Mile Front Seek to Check Santa Barbara Forest Flames.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Reports have been received here that the fire in the Sisquoc region of the Santa Barbara National Forest reserve has sprung up again from the embers of last week's heavy conflagration, due to a stiff wind blowing along the coast.
The blaze burned over 70,000 acres of timber and brush land last week. Fire fighters, spread over a fifteen mile front, are making new attempts to keep the flames under control, and prevent them from spreading to the San Marcos ranch property, just outside of the reserve.

BANDIT KILLED IN DUEL WITH DETECTIVES

(By United Press Leased Wire) ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 17.—Edwin J. Rust, gunman, slayer of Sheriff I. C. Fulkler of Aberdeen, S. D., for whom police have been searching for the last two months, was killed by detectives here early today.

Rust is declared to have had a notorious record on the Pacific coast and in other western states. Rust killed Fulkler on a Great Northern train while being returned to Aberdeen for robbery. After crushing the sheriff's skull with his handcuffs and shooting him, Rust leaped from the train and escaped.

The hunt for him throughout the northwest has been going on for weeks. After escaping from police last night, he was cornered today in a room on Dayton avenue, by Detectives Tom Brown and Dan Cassidy.

Rust faced the two in bandit style. He backed against the wall and fired two shots as they entered. His fire was returned and he slipped to the floor, dying.

Rust was recently prosecuted in California for automobile theft. He was also under parole in Idaho. He robbed five business concerns at Aberdeen after driving a stolen car there from Los Angeles. He was arrested but broke jail. Later he was captured at Grand Forks, N. D., from where he was being returned when he killed Fulkler.

Chicago Schools, Bankers Join Forces in Move to Teach Thrift

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Thrift has taken its place beside the three Rs.

When Chicago school children answer the first bell of the fall term on September 4 they will find a course in "How to Save" ranked in importance with reading, writing and arithmetic.

The course, which aims to be suggestive, allowing teachers to adapt it to their particular needs, was prepared by Peter A. Mortenson, superintendent of schools, after a series of conferences with local bankers.

"Save your pennies" will be drilled into the minds of all pupils from the first to the eighth grades. Pamphlets will serve as texts and will supplement discussions in class, while also being used in reading and arithmetic classes.

First grade pupils are to get their first ideas of saving from reading "The Little Red

LAUNCH NEW ANTI-STRIKE MOVE

SHORTAGE OF FOOD GRIPS GERMANY

Government Moves to Control Eatables; Deny Chancellor Slain

BERLIN, Aug. 17.—As the political situation continued stable today, despite efforts of enemies of the new cabinet to cause trouble by dissemination of a rumor that Chancellor Stresemann had been assassinated, the government turned its attention to the critical food situation which seemed the chief obstacle to the restoration of internal order.

In Braunschweig, food demonstrators intimidated the local government and forced inauguration of a food control commission of thirty workers. The government already had pledged itself to seize food on its own account if stocks were not obtainable otherwise, but the demonstrators insisted on creation of the commission.

It was also understood the governments of Thuringia and Saxony might seize food unless the central government consented to adopt their food demands.

Thuringia mountain resorts were advising foreigners to leave within three days on account of the food shortage and some hotels had posted placards reading: "We will not feed foreigners."

In the Ruhr, dispatches said, labor officials threatened a strike because of the food shortage and unsatisfactory wage conditions.

Meantime the new French repressive measures in the Ruhr had caused renewed indignation here. Dispatches from Dusseldorf announced the French had decided the frontier between occupied and unoccupied Germany would continue closed until August 31.

In the Belgian occupied zone, other dispatches advised the military authorities had started imposing fines in dollars and had imposed a fine of $187,500, or more than 560,000,000 marks, on the city of Duisburg.

A communist outbreak was reported from Rüsselsheim, where twenty-five gendarmes, reinforcing the law and order committee of citizens, arrested the local communist leader. In retaliation communist unemployed swept through the town, plundering shops and manhandling citizens. Twelve citizens were taken as hostages and held until the communist leader was released.

In a conflict yesterday near Beckenhausen food rioters disarmed the police, including reinforcements, and wounded twenty-three of them.

At Bauch, near Berlin, a watchman killed a thief caught robbing a grain field after a running fight in which several shots were exchanged.

Film Folk Named In Suit By Contractor

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Norma Talmadge, screen star, and her movie producer husband, Joseph M. Schenck, ordered an open air swimming pool constructed in the grounds of their palatial estate here but failed to pay for it, according to L. N. Raphael, contractor, who is suing them today for $2055.

Powers Take Final Steps On Arms Parley Treaties

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The five-power naval disarmament treaty, scrapping scores of battleships and the four-power Pacific pact, designed to remove the menace of war in the Far East, went into effect today.

By a quick of fate, the final fruition of the principal part of the Washington disarmament conference was heralded to the world one week after the burial of the late President Warren G. Harding, who summoned the greatest powers of the world together in conference here in November, 1921.

Ratifications of the two treaties were exchanged and deposited in a ceremony in the diplomatic room of the state department shortly after noon today.

Twenty-four ships in all go to the junk pile immediately as America's contribution to the reduction of naval armaments. Two others will be scrapped probably before the end of the year. In addition two fighting ships of the largest type will be stripped of their turrets immediately and become aircraft carriers.

INCUBATOR SAVES CHILD BORN FOUR MONTHS TOO SOON

FINDLAY, Ohio, Aug. 17.—A remarkable story of how infant life was miraculously sustained after coming into the world nearly four months previous to the date for normal birth, was revealed today by authorities of Findlay hospital.

The case is that of Rose Mary Eileen—"the child without a chance"—and is believed to set a record for premature babies.

Rose Mary—a living triumph of modern obstetrics, was given a four months head start in life through a caesarian operation, necessary to save her mother, Mrs. O. D. Jelley.

Held Slight Hope
The operation was directed by Dr. Don B. Biggs and he and his assistants held slight hope that the infant would live.

Placed in a steam heated incubator, however, life was sustained and today, the approximate date for her birth had been normal, physicians announced Rose Mary is about to be "graduated" to a full sized crib.

At birth the tiny infant weighed 1 3/4 pounds, was approximately 11 inches long and an ordinary tea-cup would have fitted comfortably over her head.

Heat in the incubator was maintained at 90 degrees and Rose Mary took food through a silver tube. Her mother has recovered from the operation and will be able to care for her child when she is removed from her incubator.

Establishes Record
According to authorities in obstetrics, there are many cases on record where premature babies have been saved by incubators, but this is believed to be the first time an infant taken from its mother at such an early date has lived more than a few hours.

The theory has been that babies are not viable until three months before the date for normal birth. Hospital charts today show Rose Mary has grown to a length of 13 1/2 inches and weighs three pounds, eleven ounces.

She is to be removed to a crib in a week or ten days.

STATE SELLS LAND UNDER SCRIPT LAW

(By United Press Leased Wire) SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Today the state is selling land—on paper—at $6.50 an acre.

Surveyor General W. S. Kingsbury expects to sell 5,000 paper acres before night.

Under the new scrip law effective today the surveyor general, attorney general and board of control fix the price at which land is offered. Another departure is sale of scrip by mail.

Any government land open to filing may be taken by owners of state scrip. The state has an account with the federal government calling for 50,000 acres of land in exchange for school lands in federal reserves. The trade is made after the scrip owner has selected his land.

There is government land in practically every county in the state that may be filed upon by owners of scrip. Most of this land, the surveyor general says, is suitable only for grazing purposes.

LUMBERMEN IN SESSION

LONGVIEW, Wash., Aug. 17.—More than 200 lumbermen are here today for the meeting of the west coast lumbermen's association in session at the new hotel Monticello. R. A. Long, president of the Long Bell-Lumber company, will speak at the banquet tonight.

Miss Wills earned the right to play for Mrs. Mallory's title by defeating Miss Eleanor Goss of New York at 6-4 and 6-0.

Mrs. Mallory became the defender of her championship by eliminating Mrs. R. C. Clayton, the last of the British stars, at 6-4 and 6-2.

FLAMES SWEEP OVER 2 OIL TANK FARMS

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 17.—More than $200,000 damage had resulted at noon today from fire, started by lightning in the huge tank farm of the Humble Oil company here. Officials of the company said $4,000,000 worth of oil was threatened by the flames.

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 17.—Explosion of an oil tank on the General Petroleum tank farm on Point Pirmin was menacing millions of barrels of oil this afternoon.

Fire Chief Scott of Los Angeles has arrived to take charge of the fire fighters. An effort is being made to build a wall of dirt around the flames in an effort to isolate the one tank.

Danger from the fire is less than was expected because the tank is mostly underground, Chief Scott said.

The tank holds 150,000 barrels of oil. The loss will be about $500,000, company officials estimated. Although there is no immediate danger, residents within two blocks of the fire zone have been ordered to leave their residences in case the tank bursts completely and deluges flaming oil down the hill.

ORDER JOINT CONFERENCE OF CHIEFS

Coal Commission Demands to Know Points of Difference In Clash

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Negotiations between miners and operators for a new working contract in the anthracite coal fields, which were broken off July 27, will be resumed Monday in Atlantic City. Under pressure from the administration in Washington, through the United States coal commission, both sides today agreed to go ahead with the negotiations.

(By United Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Formal notice was served on anthracite miners and operators by the United States coal commission today that they must get together and advise the commission by 8 p. m. just exactly what specific points they are unable to agree upon.

The notice was served on S. D. Warriner, chairman of the operators' policy committee, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, when they were called into conference with the coal commission shortly before noon.

Plans were immediately made for a joint session of miners and operators at which the "points of disagreement" will be drawn up and the whole matter prepared for submission to the commission.

The miners and operators were told to decide:
1—Whether they can reach an agreement on a new contract in the anthracite fields.
2—Whether, in event of inability to reach such an agreement, they can get together on a plan to assure continuance of mining until an agreement is reached.

3—Whether, in event of all efforts to reach such agreement failing, the miners and operators will seek assistance of a third party, presumably the coal commission, in an effort to bring about an orderly and peaceable settlement without suspension of work in the mine fields.

This action was taken by the coal commission to bring the opposing sides together and force resumption of joint negotiations which were broken off at Atlantic City last month.

COOLIDGE IN CONFERENCES IN STRIKE CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—President Coolidge today devoted most of his attention to the menace of an anthracite coal strike, summoning to his office one by one Secretaries Hoover, Work, Weeks and Attorney General Daugherty to discuss the situation with them.

None of the cabinet officers would discuss their conversation to admit that the coal situation was again under consideration by the president.

LYNCH GEORGIA NEGRO

WELLSTON, Ga., Aug. 17.—Lee Green, negro, said to have admitted an attack on Mrs. Mattie Watson, July 4, was lynched near here today by a party of 300 men. The lynching party took the negro away from several officers, hanged him to a tree and riddled his body with bullets.

Vicar Appeals to Americans to Save Famous Church From Decay

STOKE POGES, Eng., Aug. 17.—Time threatens to destroy the subject of the most beautiful word picture in the English language.

The curfew which "told the knell of parting day" will soon inspire its last evening's meditation, unless the old belfry spire, in which hangs the curfew bell, is repaired against the ravages of old age.

"The lowering herd winds slowly o'er the lea," sang the poet.

But, unless money is forthcoming to stop their encroachments, industrious suburban home builders will mar that idyllic spot with stucco bungalows. The herd will become a shiny milk cart.

Stoke Poges parish church was the scene of Gray's inspired "Elegy in a Country Churchyard."

In yesterday's trial it rose ten feet from the ground and remained in the air about ten minutes.

Official trial flights are scheduled for next Tuesday when high officials of the air service will be here to inspect the plane.

HURL THREAT AT GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA

Anonymous Letter Warns Executive Flogging Due Unless Tulsa Troops Recalled.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 17.—Governor J. C. Walton, who declared martial law in Tulsa as the result of many whippings in that city, was threatened today with "the same punishment as the others" unless troops are withdrawn.

The governor was threatened in an anonymous letter made public at the executive's office.

Nate Hantman, victim of a band of whippers, was fined $100 and sentenced to jail today for 30 days on vagrancy charges. Flogging of Hantman resulted in Tulsa being placed under martial law.

LETTER CALLS ON MAYOR TO QUIT POST

STEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 17.—A letter purporting to have been sent by the Ku Klux Klan has been received by Mayor Hawkins, demanding his resignation and that of Police Chief Carter.

The letter, according to the mayor, demands that he resign his post as the result of klansmen having been beaten by a mob here Wednesday night. The mayor refused to comment on the letter.

Public assemblage was under the ban today as city and county authorities probed the Wednesday night rioting in which two men were seriously wounded, a score of others injured and several automobiles wrecked.

The order banning public meetings was issued by Mayor Hawkins to prevent a recurrence of the fighting which is believed to have been an outgrowth of Tuesday's city primary.

ARREST OF PROMOTER IS ASKED

10-Story Building Scheme Here Culminates Today In Criminal Charge

'HIGH FINANCING' WITH MANY HIT HELD AIRED

Anaheim Architect Swears to Warrant Charging His $1350 Gained By Fraud

With the filing of a criminal charge in connection with his alleged financial operations in Santa Ana and Anaheim, E. J. Koerner was pictured today as a builder of skyscrapers out of thin air.

Koerner, erstwhile promoter of a proposed ten-story building project in this city, was charged with obtaining $1375 from M. Eugene Durfee, Anaheim architect, under false pretense, with reference to a lease said to have been secured from interests represented by William F. Lutz, and covering the property at the corner of Fourth and Bush streets, site of the proposed skyscraper.

When Durfee filed his complaint against Koerner with the district attorney's office today, an amazing piece of alleged financial engineering was held revealed in the wake of Koerner's activities. Among other things, it was asserted that:

Confidence Held Gained
Koerner, whose home is in Lynn, Mass., first appeared in Santa Ana in the early part of July, secured the confidence of prominent Santa Ana citizens and succeeded in interesting them in his proposal to leave the business corner in the heart of the city and erect, thereon, a ten-story business block.

Verbally sponsored by these citizens, he approached the Lutz interests; secured a ninety-nine year lease on the corner store without payment of a cent; he likewise secured agreement for a similar lease from D. L. Anderson and company, grocers, occupying the adjacent store space, giving in payment a check for $3,500. This check, drawn upon an Anaheim bank, was said to have a deposit of only $70 behind.

Lease Recorded.
He recorded the Lutz lease, which was said to have allowed him a year's time in which to make his first annual payment of $5,500.

He then approached Durfee and sold Durfee a half interest in the Lutz lease for $1375, representing, Durfee alleges, that he had paid $2,700 upon the lease. Durfee was also said to have had the understanding that he would be architect for the proposed skyscraper.

According to S. B. Marshall, manager for Anderson and company, the $3,500 check was discovered to be worthless and the Anderson lease was withheld.

Lutz was understood today to be contemplating the filing of a civil action against Koerner to recover the lease on record.

Five Stories "Full"
Meanwhile, the authorities were searching for Koerner, holding a warrant for his arrest based upon the alleged transaction with Durfee. Koerner's asserted failure to make an appearance in Anaheim yesterday after Durfee was said to have received a telegram from him, stating that Koerner would be there, precipitating the crisis in the building scheme.

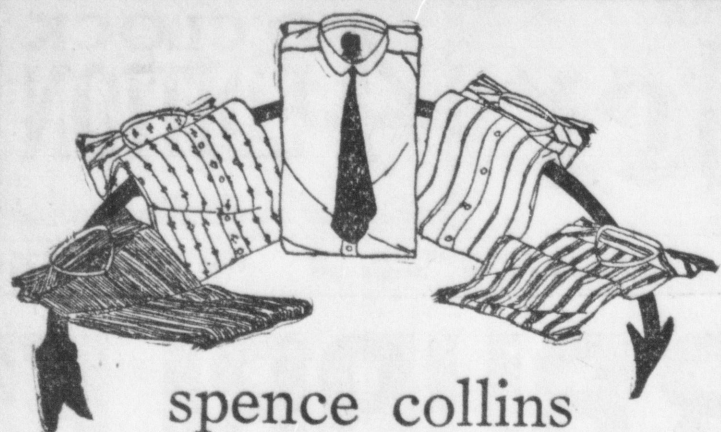

Preparations for construction of the building had progressed to the extent that architects' drawings had been made and reservations for office space were said to have been filed. Koerner announced in Los Angeles a few days ago that five floors of the proposed skyscraper were fully reserved.

Threat Of Flood In Denver Ends Quickly

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 17.—Flood waters in the Platte for a short period menaced lower Denver and Littleton last night.

A heavy rain, nearing cloud-burst proportions in Deer Creek canyon, sent the water down on the lowlands. From 9 p. m. until 11 p. m. they rose rapidly but as quickly receded before material damage had been caused. Residents of Littleton, fearing a repetition of the 1921 disaster, prepared to ascend to higher ground but few left their homes.

GET 'FIGHTING DOLLARS' IN LEASE WAR

Opponents of the lease granted a San Francisco company at Newport Beach for the use of the pier in the loading of oil tankers began at Balboa today the subscription of funds for a "war chest" with which to "fight to a successful conclusion" the battle being waged against the permit through the medium of a referendum election.

According to William H. Burnham Jr., spokesman for the Balboa opposition to the lease, a goodly sum of "fighting dollars" had been collected this morning with which to further the campaign initiated yesterday.

The official petition, which residents will be asked to sign to bring about the calling of the election, is expected to go into circulation early next week. It is being prepared by a Los Angeles law firm with connections at Newport Beach.

The proponents of the lease, including the members of the city council and others interested in the loading of oil tankers at the county harbor, had not raised any opposing movement to the referendum forces up until this noon. A meeting of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce at Newport Beach last night failed to bring forth any comment on the dispute.

Advocates of the $1,000,000 bond issue, proposed for the betterment of the harbor, got in "good looks" for the port bond campaign by addressing the members of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce.

The next opportunity for the city fathers to reply to the referendum movement will be afforded Monday night when the city council of the city of Newport Beach, which includes Balboa, will meet in regular session in the city hall. Verbal "Big Bertha" and destructive "minnenwursers" via the tongue, are expected to be set off by both sides at that time.

Whiskerinos of '49 Fete Plan Barbecue

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Elaborate preparations are being made by the Whiskerino club of Sacramento for the first bear-meat barbecue to be held in California in forty-nine years. The exact date for the feast has not been set, but it will be in the early fall.

Judge E. C. Hart, associate justice of the third district court of appeal, has been chosen to preside at the barbecue. The judge was selected by the Whiskerino club, an outgrowth of the '49 celebration held here in 1922, because he is a real native son, having been born on Admission day, September 9.

The judge first saw the light of day in an oxen-propelled emigrant wagon, commonly known on this side as a prairie schooner, on the banks of the Carson river, just on this side of the California line.

The Whiskerino committee that selected the judge is composed of H. C. Bortoff, Harry Peterson, James Tucker, J. J. Monteverde, J. J. Higgins and John T. Skelton.

Boy Killed As Picnic Auto Runs Off Cliff

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Seven-year-old Theodore Robinson lost his life because he wanted to "help daddy move his automobile."

His neck was broken when the car plunged over a thirty-foot cliff into the bed of a creek in Niles canyon. The father, W. C. Robinson, 1617 University avenue, Berkeley, was flung clear and escaped unhurt.

The Robinson family was picnicking when the accident occurred. When the rays of the rising sun beat down upon their car, which had been parked in the open, the elder Robinson decided to move it into the shade of a tree.

"Let me help, daddy," called Theodore, and climbed into the seat beside his father.

In some manner, while backing the car to turn around, Robinson lost control and the car rolled over a cliff and crashed into the creek bed. The boy was pinned under the heavy machine.

Another motorist helped lift the car from him and rushed him to the Hayward Central hospital where it was revealed that his neck had been broken, killing him instantly.

The Register reaches the far corners of the county.

STUDIED SPEED OF LIGHT ON MT. WILSON

PASADENA, Aug. 17.—Dr. A. A. Michelson of the University of Chicago, who has been carrying on his investigations of the velocity of light at the Mount Wilson observatory for the past two months, has left Pasadena for the East, where he will begin his experiments on the effect of the earth's rotation on the velocity of light.

Dr. Michelson's work this summer is the continuation of investigations begun by him on Mount Wilson three years ago in the effort to arrive at more exact figures in the measurement of light velocity.

Because the rapidity with which light travels in space does not vary, it is known as a "constant of nature." A unit of measurement called a lightyear, the distance that light travels in a year at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, has been utilized for measuring the tremendous distances among the stars for many years. To put it into the language of our everyday life, astronomers have to use a measuring stick about six trillion miles in length in order to avoid the unwieldy mass of figures that would result from the use of so small a unit as a mile in figuring the distance of stars many thousands of lightyears away.

Improve Instruments Increased power and sensitivity of instruments and equipment have developed the need of a finer degree of accuracy in the measurements used by the astronomer if he is to keep pace with the rapidly unfolding problems of today and tomorrow. Greater advancement in the knowledge of the sun has been made in the last fifteen years than in the one hundred years preceding, as a result of the perfection and scope of modern instruments in the hands of observers.

Not only Mount Wilson, but Mount San Antonio, more popularly known in this vicinity by his nickname of "Baldy," figures in Dr. Michelson's tests of the velocity of light. The distance between them—about twenty-two miles—being used as one of the two elements in the measurement. The base line in the valley from which this distance was determined was measured by the geodetic division of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Major William Bowie of Washington, D. C., head of the geodetic division of the United States Geodetic and Coast Survey, during his recent visit to the Mount Wilson observatory said that the usual degree of accuracy aimed for by the survey is an error not exceeding one foot in twenty miles, but that in the measurement of the distance used for Dr. Michelson's experiments this error would be reduced to three inches, according to the latest report on the computation now being made in Washington.

Earthquake Effects In connection with this survey for Dr. Michelson's work, Major Bowie mentioned that he had been asked how they could be sure that the measurements would remain the same in a country subject to earthquakes. The answer was that both "Baldy" and Mount Wilson were in the same "block," as he expressed it, so that if an earthquake moved one the other would be moved with it and their relative positions and distances would remain the same.

The source of light for the experiments in measuring the velocity of light is a powerful arc light on Mount Wilson, brought into focus by a concave mirror which throws a parallel beam across to a mirror on "Baldy," from which it is thrown back against a rotating mirror on Mount Wilson. The time it takes the light to travel from Mount Wilson to "Baldy" and back, a distance of forty-four miles, is given by the angle through which the mirror turns while rotating at a known speed.

The mirror used is a small octagonal one, with a diameter of one and one-half inches, rotated by compressed air at a speed of 500 revolutions a second, which means that a point on its edge travels 130 miles an hour. Under such a high speed only a very small mirror can stand the terrific strain of centrifugal force; in the laboratory experiments on this same problem a mirror of twice that diameter "blew up" into a few pieces, in the same manner that flywheels sometimes explode.

Has Experimented Long When he was a young instructor in the United States Naval academy Dr. Michelson began his experiments on the velocity of light, and later, in 1886, became prominent through the Michelson and Morley experiment, the purpose of which was to determine whether there was relative motion between the earth and ether, a so-called ether drift. The negative result of this experiment was used by Einstein as the basis of his special theory of relativity; hence the familiar quotation, "Before Einstein was a Michelson."

Dr. Michelson, in his capacity of research associate, will return to Mount Wilson next spring to resume his investigations.

New invention is a powerful electric light attached to lifeboats and automatically switched on as the boat touches the water.

HAPPIER, HEALTHIER WOMEN by thousands are known to exist in this country because they have been relieved from pain and suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Science in surgery and electricity have advanced greatly during the past fifty years, but treatment of disease by old-fashioned root and herb medicines has never been improved upon. The leader of them all is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after fifty years of success is today recognized as the standard remedy for female ills and sold everywhere for that purpose. Replies to a questionnaire recently sent out to 50,000 women by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it. Isn't this a marvelous record for any medicine to hold?

Mate, Now Confined In 'Stockade,' Sought Other Women, Claim

Declaring that her husband sought the company of other women that he ignored his wife in public, Mrs. Nora P. Redfern today filed suit in the superior court here for divorce from Earl F. Redfern. Attorney Clyde A. Payne, of Orange, represents Mrs. Redfern.
Redfern, his wife charged, refused to work and she was forced to accompany him from place to place when he moved to evade his debts, she alleged.

The Redferns were married at San Bernardino, August 5, 1922, and separated March 22, 1923.
After their marriage, Mrs. Redfern stated, she learned that he had previously served a prison sentence for a felony. Even now, she declares, he is confined in the 'stockade' at Los Angeles, in punishment for some offense.

It was reported today. A com-

Bank Brings Suits To Recover On Notes

Two actions on file in the superior court here today, with the First National bank of Santa Ana as plaintiff, were based upon alleged notes. One suit seeks judgment for $4,852.88 against Neil Peterson. The other action seeks to recover $1000 from W. M. Stoner and wife.

Worthless Check Case Here Is Postponed

Arraignment of R. A. Garrison, charged with issuing a worthless check to H. S. Vaughn of Santa Ana, was continued today until tomorrow, at 9:30 a. m., when Garrison appeared before Superior Judge W. D. Dehy here today.

Man Pleads Guilty To Issuing $28.50 Check

P. E. Guber today pleaded guilty in the superior court here to a charge of issuing a worthless check for $28.50 to A. B. McDonald, July 2, and threw himself upon the mercy of the court.

Judge W. D. Dehy set the date of hearing upon Guber's application for probation for next Friday, at 9:30 a. m. Guber's request was presented through his attorney, James L. Allen.

A flock of 100 hens produce in eggshells about 137 pounds of chalk annually.

PERMIT TO WED PERJURY CASE TRIAL FAILS

A third trial loomed today for Victor Torterice, two trials just held here having failed to legally establish his guilt or innocence of a charge that he swore falsely to the age of his cousin, Jennie Patt, in securing a license to marry her.

After deliberating on a verdict from 6:50 p. m. to 10:15 last night, the jury at the second trial reported a hopeless disagreement and was discharged. Superior Judge William D. Dehy set the date of the third trial for September 19, at 10 a. m., in Department 1 of the court.

Apparently abandoning his intention to ask for a change of venue, Attorney Morgan Marma-duke, for the defense, proceeded with the trial yesterday without making such a motion he previously intimated presenting.

The special venire of twenty jurors, summoned especially for the Torterice trial, was supplanted by an additional twelve talesmen before the jury was completed, as follows:
R. E. Temple, R. J. Sweet, H.
H. Bristow, L. Edwards, J. V.
Woodside, H. Coffelt, A. C. Reither,
W. W. Blaylock, W. E. Stromer,
J. W. Flagg, W. A. Smith and
T. H. Bond.

11 BID FOR PARKS CUSTODIAN POST

Increased interest in the management of the city parks was manifest here today following the submission of applications from eleven men for the position of parks custodian at last night's meeting of the park board at the city hall, George Wells, board member, reported.

Applications were made by M. G.
Tyler, Peder Larsen, E. B. Whitney, J. W. Meador, N. A. Matthews,
H. E. Bonham, J. W. Bennett, B. S.
Pierpoint, Alfred Emerson, S. J.
Buxton and J. O. Williamson, the present custodian.

The appointment probably will not be made before September 1, committee members stated.

Following a threatened cut in the number of assistants, Williamson indicated his protest and possible resignation. That he has reconsidered such a move was indicated by his application for reappointment, it was said.

Complaints of unsanitary conditions prevailing at the Birch park have been filed by residents near the park and are pending before the committee. Wells stated, pointing out that these conditions partly were due to the need for expansion of the rest rooms.

"It is our hope to modernize and expand the rest room facilities at the park."

SHOP FOR WOMEN OPENS TOMORROW

Prospective customers and friends of the Bernhard-Kaufman Shop for Women at 302 North Broadway were today anticipating the formal opening, scheduled to take place tomorrow, of the city's newest, specialty shop.

Ann Bernhard, formerly of the Emporium, San Francisco, and Kathryn Kaufman of Livingston Brothers, also San Francisco, are the proprietors.

Spotless in egg-shell finish white enamel with soft grey velvet rugs and stenciled monk's cloth draperies, the shop offers an inviting prospect to those intent on purchasing some one of the four things appealing to femininity in which the store will specialize—frocks, sweaters, silk underwear and hosiery.

An artistic monogram of the initials "B" and "K" used on the announcement cards recently mailed to women of the city will be employed by the store's owners to adorn wrapping paper boxes and other appointments of the new shop.

Orange Man Accused In Check Case Pleads

Trial of Jess Reed of Orange, charged with a serious offense against a 16-year-old Santa Ana girl, was set today by Superior Judge William D. Dehy here for October 18 at 10 a. m.

In answering to arraignment today Reed pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was accompanied into court by his attorney, Clyde Bishop.

Wife Seeks Divorce Alleging Cruel Acts

Cruelty charges, including allegations of physical violence, curses and false accusations, were made against F. W. Moesser by his wife, Matilda Moesser, in her suit for divorce, which was on file today in the superior court here.

The Moessers were married January 2, 1887, at San Bernardino.
Mrs. Moesser's action was filed through Attorney Clyde Bishop.

Hearing Date Is Set On Bad Check Plaintiff

examination before Justice J. B.
Cox, October 16 at 2 p. m.
Megraw was arraigned late yesterday, being represented by Attorney W. F. Menton.

left Talbert for their former home

their sojourn in California nothing seems natural there, they state, and if they do not become more satisfied they plan to return here.

LEGION COUNCIL IN DENIAL ON ENDORSEMENT

Reports disseminated throughout Southern California that at a caucus held here Thursday night Bruce W. McDaniel, commander of the Redlands post of the American Legion, had been unanimously endorsed as the candidate of the 11th congressional district for the post of state commander of the American Legion, are erroneous, Maurice Enderle, a member of the Orange county council of the Legion, stated today.

"The county council," Enderle emphasized, "has a policy of not pledging itself for any candidate. While the Orange county delegates may support McDaniel at the convention to be held at Eureka, August 27 to 30, inclusive, they are not pledged to him."

So far as Enderle is aware, he and Horace Snow will probably be the only delegates to go from Santa Ana. Enderle will vote as a delegate from Santa Ana post No. 131 and bear the proxies of the Huntington Beach post of the American Legion. E. J. Marks of Fullerton, commander of the county council, will be a delegate of the Fullerton post and will bear the proxies of the remaining posts in the county.

Thirty Legion members from throughout the 11th congressional district attended Thursday night's meeting here. Resolutions passed included one calling for the purchase of a new hospital site, similar to climate and facilities to the Arrowhead hospital, for the treatment of specific cases; one for the acceptance of the Boulder dam and all-American canal project, and one for the exemption of all Legion post club homes from taxation.

The forthcoming offerings are expected to clean up last season's crop. At the last sale 20,000 bags were sold, the top price being $2.68½. Rice growers are anticipating a profitable season. There is a decreased rice acreage this year, the total being estimated at 90,000 acres.

Child Hurt While Stealing Auto Ride

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Four-year-old William O'Sullivan, 79 Twenty-eighth street, carried his left arm in a sling as a result of trying to "nip" a ride on a truck that was backing into a garage. The child was caught between the truck and the door frame. Clement Wender, 13A Twenty-eighth street, who was putting the machine into a garage at 71 Twenty-eighth street, heard the boy's cry of pain and hurried with him to St. Luke's hospital.

HARDING SUBJECT FOR WOMAN'S PEN

TUSTIN, Aug. 17.—The following poem was written by Mrs. Kate C. Ebel in memory of the late President Warren G. Harding:

THE LAST HOME COMING

With muffled drums and tramp of marching feet,
Soldiers and sailors move with solemn tread.

Beside the hearse, down through the throng-lined street,
All paying homage to the honored dead,
Who, stricken down in manhood's power and pride
In a far city suffered much, and died.

Back to his own home town where years ago,
He lived, and worked and loved among his friends,
Called to the highest honor man can here bestow,
Cut down by death, ere three years service ends.

Brought back where friends may gather round his bier,
To look their last on one they loved so dear.

His high achievements, all he tried to do
As President and Chief of this fair land,
His justice, common sense and purpose true,
Won for him tributes seen on every hand.

And in his simple home life day by day,
He showed his kindly heart in every way.

His love for country led him far afield,
To view at closer range his vast domain,
Anxious to see what treasures these lands yield,
And talk en route to people from his train.

He even journeyed to Alaska's shore
The wonders of that country to explore,

'Twas when returning from his northern trip—
With loving wife and friends so staunch and true—
That sickness seized him with relentless grip,
And all his many plans Death overthrew;

Then weeping soon was heard on every side
When it was known, our President has died.

None can depict the agony and grief
That came to her, "First lady of the land,"
Her loved one gone, no tears could bring relief,
What she endured we cannot understand.

But with a calm born of her weight of woe,
She made her plans and saw them carried through.

The long, sad journey of the funeral train,
Crossing the continent to the eastern state,
Was broken by thousands standing even in the rain,
Eager to offer homage, though the hour was late.

And many flowers were strewn and tears were shed—
O'er the loved Chieftain lying cold and dead.

'Twas just a few short weeks ago at best,
That from the platform of that special car
In which he made his journey to the west,
He spoke to thousands gathered from near and far—
And they had listened to his kindly tone,
And bidden him Godspeed as he hastened on.

And now he comes back in that self same car,
All draped in black with habiliments of woe,
Guarded by soldiers from the great World War,
With friends so dear, and she who loved him so.

Back to the White House there in state to lay,
Where all may view him ere his burial day.

And then he comes back to the old home town,
Within his father's house to be once more,
Neighbors and friends from many miles around
Come to pay honor to their friend of yore—
Thousands pressed forward in a mighty tide
To view the flag-draped bier of him who died.

The tomb is sealed, the people gone away,
But the nation has a vigil she must keep—
Strong soldier guards will watch both night and day,
That none disturb him in his last long sleep.

Within his Father's house his soul will ever be,
Safe and secure through all eternity.
MRS. KATE C. EBEL, Tustin.

Bureau of Internal Revenue Cuts Budget

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—The international revenue bureau intends to hold down its budget for expenses for the fiscal year 1923, it is indicated by a sweeping order for reduction in the working forces in the various collection districts, which has been put into effect by Commissioner Blair.

Collector Rex Goodcell here was notified today that the 10 per cent reduction in field and office forces would stand. Fifteen men were dropped in the Los Angeles district. The reduction in payrolls for the entire United States would reach the $1,250,000 mark, it was estimated.

The entire operating expense of the Southern California district for the fiscal year 1922 was $215,479.64. This means that $49,966,326 was collected by Collector Goodcell at a cost of .0043 per cent. Not only was this immense sum harvested for Uncle Sam, but the officials of the bureau enforced the various internal revenue laws from which no revenue is derived, it was declared by Goodcell.

August Bride-elect Is Honored By Friends At Gift Shower

The approaching nuptials of Miss Stella Titchenal and Leon Elliott offered incentive for a delightfully arranged surprise shower given Wednesday night by Mrs. Jesse Elliott and Miss Nedra Newberg at the home of the former, 814 West Third street.

The hostesses were fortunate in having Mrs. Elliott's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead, to take charge of decorations for the event, for Mrs. Birkhead's originality along such lines wins constant admiration from her friends. A color scheme of rose-pink was closely adhered to and flowers were used in profusion throughout the lovely home.

In the dining-room the showery nature of the evening was suggested by a large pink parasol suspended above the table. From it showered garlands of pink tulle and saucy little kewpies, while extremely original nut cups and place cards (the work of Mrs. Birkhead) marked places for the guests.

A series of interesting games offered the evening's entertainment, and Miss Titchenal chanced to win the consolation prize. So she was informed that she must be blindfolded to receive it, and after an amusing preliminary "initiation" was led to a table in the rear living-room and the blindfold removed. The table was laden with gifts of all variety, including china, cut glass, linens, and best of all, a handsome check for a check of $100.

Examination of the many beautiful articles was followed by the delicious two-course supper. The wedding of the two young people will be an event of this month, although the exact date has not been disclosed. Miss Titchenal is with the Southern California Edison company, while Mr. Elliott is connected with the Santa Ana Hardware company.

Those gathered to surprise the bride-elect included her mother, Mrs. Alice Titchenal, Mrs. Fred Elliott, Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead, Mrs. Earl Christensen, Mrs. Joseph Ryan, Mrs. Muriel Montgomery, Mrs. Clay Minnix, Mrs. Dora Bixby, Miss Inez Petty, the Misses Daisy and Alice Bullard, Miss Esther Von Hynning, Mrs. Donald Miller of Riverside, and Mrs. Maurice Bartholomew of Edmonton, Canada, an aunt of Mrs. Elliott and a house guest in her home.

Calumpit Camp

Hot! for Orange county park Tuesday, August 21, when Calumpit Camp and Auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans, will hold their next social meeting. A regular, old-time soldiers' feed will be given at 7:30 p. m. Coffee, cream, sugar and hard-tack will be furnished and each family is requested to bring a dish either of beans, "slumgullion" or "son-of-a-gun" and table service for the family.

A committee composed of Walter W. Tautlinger and Benjamin M. Botkin, for the camp, and Mrs. Hannah Bentz, Mrs. Nellie Kenney and Mrs. Frank P. Rowe, for the auxiliary, arranged the program last Monday evening at the house of Mrs. Bentz.

After the supper there will be a short program and then the comrades and sisters will dance for an hour or two. Comrade Frank Blechcoe has promised to bring his violin, the Donnelly sisters are expected from Anaheim, with all in readiness to play violin and piano and Mrs. Beulah Botkin has agreed to assist at the piano.

The invitation includes all Spanish War veterans, their families and their friends who are expected to come and see how the boys of '98 were fed and get acquainted with their famous dish called "son-of-a-gun" or their better known "slumgullion" and hard-tack has been ordered by the case. Grocery men call the latter "Pilot bread."

EUREKA, Aug. 17.—That $2,000,000 be expended in improving the roads of Humboldt county in order that they may conform to the standards of the state highways already completed in the county was requested by representatives of the federated commercial bodies, who appeared before the board of supervisors. However, the members of the board declared that they were opposed to a bond issue but would favor raising the required sum by direct taxation.

Small Laddie Summons Playmate Group to Birthday Party

Lively anticipations of a happy party were realized by a group of happy children who yesterday gathered at the home of Master Gene Stanley Rash and aided him in celebrating his second birthday.

Invitations recently issued by Gene's mother, each bore a cunning little picture of the smiling laddie and those smiles were in evidence all yesterday afternoon when merry games were played as the mothers of the little guests looked on.

The most exciting moment came when Gene opened his gifts of which there was a generous array, and the enjoyment of which was followed by refreshments.

Mrs. Rash used baskets of delicately tinted asters to adorn the table which was centered with the pretty birthday cake bearing two gleaming candles. Place cards bore groups of happy children at play while the napkins also showed the same pretty grouping.

Ice cream, cake and punch were served and each little guest received a favor, small automobiles laden with candy for the boys and pretty dollies for the little maids.

Those present with their mothers were the little Misses Ina May Stice and Marjorie May Adams, Masters Dickey Burnett, Bobby Havens, Max Alvin Rash, Jimmy Adams, Billie Siefert and the small host's brother Billie with their adoring grandmothers, Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Rash sr.

Legion Auxiliary

Nearly thirty enthusiastic members of the American Legion Auxiliary joined in carrying out plans for a successful picnic supper and plunge party, last night at Huntington Beach.

The affair was the second of a series of informal summer entertainments and was so successful that those present clamored for a weekly outing. Plans were made to have another in the near future. Every imaginable dish appeared on the picnic table and while there were no lights until the meal was nearly concluded it had no appreciable effect on the appetites of the group of hungry diners.

A dip in the surf was followed by leap frog and other active beach games and a quiet swim in the plunge gave the girls all the necessary "top" to enjoy a succession of dances.

Success of the evening was largely due to the efforts of the committee composed of Miss Jane Wilde, Mrs. Edith Schaniel and Mrs. Leah Baird. Others present included Mesdames Johnson, Gertrude Whitney, C. S. Hill, H. F. Stewart, Carl Mock, Nellie Walker, Lillian Edgar, Claude Sleeper, Louise M. Potts, D. M. ## Lodi Fishermen Lost Sixty Hours In Hills

LODI, Aug. 17.—Word has been received here of the experience of Roy Stewart and W. G. Erlich who were lost and spent sixty hours in the woods along the North Fork of the Mokelumne river near Silver Lake. The two men left camp early in the morning with bedding and a small amount of food, bound for the river, where the big trout are supposed to be. When they failed to return the next day a mounted rescue party consisting of Tom Joyce and Tom Webb started out to locate them.

Late the next evening the men were located on the bank of the river, weary from many miles of tramping and almost exhausted for want of food.

Missionary Pageant Will Be Tonight

It was declared today that a silver offering to be taken tonight at the presentation of the pageant "White Fire" at the First M. E. church, would be devoted to the work of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society under whose auspices the program will be given.

Deeply spiritual in its theme, "White Fire" was written by Miss Dorothy Clarkson and will be presented by the principals aided by the vested choir. Mrs. John Clarkson has directed the rehearsals. The program will begin tonight promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

City Dwellers Choose Orange County As a Pleasure Ground

Choosing Santa Ana as the center of their vacation activities are the members of a group of fifteen close friends hailing from Pasadena, South Pasadena, Los Angeles and nearby points. The group always plans a vacation outing together and usually chooses Orange county as yielding both aquatic and scenic allure of easy access.

The fifteen fair sojourners include Mrs. Margaret Archbald and daughter Miss Bess Archbald, Mrs. Emma Suechting and daughter, Mrs. Julia M. Hartung, Miss Edith Newton, South Pasadena; Mrs. G. Gieschen and daughter Alice, Dr. Belle Sharp, Mrs. A. Burnside Sturges, Los Angeles; Miss Anne Walden, Long Beach; Mrs. Alice Boas, Mrs. M. Roe, Pasadena; Mrs. John Nies and daughter Lizette and Mrs. Bertha Seacrest, Altadena.

Four of the young women of the party are teachers in Los Angeles city and county schools. All are taking particular delight in the varied pleasures of the outing from motoring and hiking to shore bakes and swimming parties and a number of interesting and amusing kodak views will serve to recall pleasant days when autumn brings the party to a close.

Many Go East On Vacation Trips

As easterners flow into Orange county to make their homes, there is also a little ebb tide of those who are returning east to visit well-remembered scenes of youth and renew old friendships.

Among those who are choosing the Southern Pacific as a mode of travel are Miss Isabel Miller, 306 South Birch street, who will leave Sunday for Pittsburg and vicinity. The same train will bear Master Emmet Vincent Elliott of Riverine street, who will spend the winter in McCamelsville, Ohio, with his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. James Alfred King.

Miss Inez Nicholson, 1911 Spurgeon street will leave Tuesday for Denver while Miss Etta Gilliland will go to Ogden, Utah, on Monday. On the same day J. A. Raitt will leave for Grand Island, Nebraska.

Today, Mrs. M. H. Taylor of Orange departed for New Orleans while those who are running up to San Francisco are numberless and include E. E. Campbell on one of his regular trips in the interests of the farm bureau; Mrs. William Frazier and many others including students bound for Berkeley.

ARCHITECT FOR GOLF LINKS IS AWAITED HERE

Pending the arrival here of John Duncan Dunn, widely-known golf course architect, directors of the Santa Ana Country club today, at a meeting at St. Ann's inn, disclosed ways and means for carrying out the club's plan to give Orange county one of the best equipped golf courses in the Southland. "We are still taking in new members," said John L. Wheeler, a member of the club, "and every indication points to a highly-successful organization."

"Architect Dunn, one of the best men in his line in the United States, is at Lake Tahoe at present, but we expect him to reach Santa Ana some day next week."

"Immediately upon his arrival, Dunn will confer with the directors, thresh out some preliminary details, and give us some first-hand advice concerning the letting of contracts for the work to be done on the course."

Members of the club, eager to see actual work start as soon as possible, are exerting every effort to increase the club membership. "Orange county deserves, and should have one of the finest country clubs in Southern California. Our architect informs us we have an ideal location. Hard work and active co-operation will do the rest."

Alcohol Carried In Funeral Car Seized

MEDIA, Pa., Aug. 17.—A white hearse containing a load of grain alcohol valued at $300 was seized by state troopers here. The liquor had been secreted in the compartment ordinarily reserved for the coffin. Samuel Weinstock of Baltimore, driver of the funeral vehicle, was held in $1500 bail.

He told the troops he had conveyed the liquor from Baltimore, but refused to divulge any other details.

Weinstock threw up his hands at the sight of the officers and said: "I guess it's no use trying to fool you fellows."

"Love Pirate" in Bigamy Defense Accuses Wife No. 1 in Sensation

Held to answer on a charge of bigamy, Ellsworth Egli, Universal Film company employee, was at liberty under $500 bail today, pending his trial in the superior court here.

When two young women tripped into Justice J. B. Cox's court late yesterday at Egli's hearing and modestly admitted that they were Mrs. Ellsworth Egli No. 1 and No. 2, respectively, the court decided that the case was worth sending to the higher court for a jury to pass upon.

Egli, who might easily have been taken as a "star" rather than a worker behind the scenes, wore the approved raiment and sartorial finish of the man of the films as he sat beside his attorney, Griffith Jones, in the court room.

Wives on Stand
His yellow hair, rippled and curled back in regular waves from his forehead, ended in two attractive wisps in front of each ear. Handsome eyes, heavily fringed, drooped to the table before him during most of the hearing as his asserted wives confronted him.

Catherine Agnes McCarthy, testified she had married Egli in May, 1920, at Los Angeles. There had been no divorce nor annulment of the marriage, she said.

Mrs. Ellsworth Egli No. 2, nee Elizabeth Mitchell, who is the complaining witness against Egli, followed her alleged predecessor to the stand. She said she married Egli at Santa Ana in May, 1921. She discovered about a year later, she said, that he had another wife living and undivorced, and then promptly left him.

Witness Warned
Although Egli remained passive throughout the hearing, not so his attorney, Griffith Jones. Mrs. Egli No. 1, the first witness, was met by the stern warning of Jones, delivered to the court and the witness, that any testimony she might give against Egli would result in her being charged with bigamy herself. When she married Egli in Los Angeles in 1920, Jones testified, she was already married to a man named Murphy, who was dying of tuberculosis at Tombstone, Ariz. She had written there, she said, in an attempt to locate him.

Thus a prosecution and defense of the woman developed within the prosecution and defense of the man. Jones hinted that a bigamy charge against Mrs. Egli No. 1 would be filed at Los Angeles.

The group consists of H. A. Williams, president of the First National bank of Madera; K. D. Vaughn of Fresno, D. F. Appling, F. A. Appling and W. L. Matlock. Williams has been elected president, succeeding Lucius Powers, who resigned. Vaughn was elected vice-president and cashier, succeeding M. L. Wells, who resigned, and the five new stockholders are named directors of the bank. Powers remains as chairman of the board of directors. The new officers will take their positions September 15.

CHILD, 8, REACHES MOUNT SHASTA PEAK

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Gerardine Mazza, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mazza, of this city, is back from the Sierra, with the record of being the youngest person who has climbed the 14,380 feet to the summit of Mt. Shasta.

The trip was made with a party of thirty-six members of the Sierra club, on July 18, practically all of the party going to the summit. The child made the trip with more apparent ease than many of the adults.

The trip from the timber line at Horse Camp was made in exactly nine hours, and was said by members of the party to have been more difficult than the Mt. Whitney climb, which some of them had made formerly.

"I had more fun than I ever had before in one day of my life," was the comment of the holder of the juvenile mountain climbing record upon her feat.

Part of the enjoyment was coasting down on the snow more than a mile on rubber sheeting.

DIVORCE IN FRANCE IN DOWNWARD TREND

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Divorce is on the decline in France. Official figures show that, after a decided upward tendency—between 1913 and 1920 the annual decrees rose from 19,000 to 35,000—the curve of marital infelicity has turned downward, registering 34,000 for the year 1921 and a little more than 32,000 for 1922.

Of the latter number Paris alone furnishes 5,200. Examination of the statistics demonstrates that for the last twenty years couples without children have furnished more than 65 per cent of the applicants for liberation from the matrimonial bond.

Infidelity, contrary to general belief, is the motive in only 25 per cent of the cases which come before the courts. The most common cause is cruelty.

Police Court Nets Sacramento $34,962

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Police court fines during the past six months totaled $34,962, according to figures compiled by City Controller Corning de Saules for the City Council. Receipts from other sources were: Camp Sacramento, $3955; auto camp, $2229; St. Francis Hotel, $12,569; library fines, $1090; food and market fees, $83.65; electrical permits, $4306; building permits, $6151; city license, $60,813; tax redemption, $8432.

greatest number of improvements on their places. The first prize will be $200, the second $100 and the others $75, $50 and $40 each. The improvements upon which the places will be judged will be leveling the land, building construction and crops, such as alfalfa, grapes and orchards.

URGES S. A. MEN TO SPEAK FOR FAIR SPACE

Manager R. D. Flaherty of the Seventh Annual Orange County fair, to be held here next month, today issued a warning to Santa Ana and Orange county business men who are lagging behind in their selection of space for their exhibits in the industrial tent. Flaherty, after checking over available booths with his space salesman, discovered that the booths are being taken much faster than he anticipated and said that unless local and county merchants and business men make their space selections at an early date they will find themselves "out in the cold" when September 25, the date for the opening of the fair, arrives.

Flaherty said: "I have been holding out some of the booths for Orange county firms," said Flaherty, "but I can not do so much longer. Firms from outside the county are calling for space almost every day and I have xSSHRDLUetaoinSHRDLUU have been holding them off until I was certain the requirements of all local firms had been taken care of."

"I know of several Santa Ana business houses that expect to have exhibits at the fair but have not yet engaged their booths. We are trying to speed them up, but conditions have come to a point now where it will be necessary to let down the bars to the Los Angeles firms unless the local people act quickly."

Management Surprised
The rate at which the booths have been going has been a surprise to the fair manager. When the fair got away to a flying start, many requests for space being received before the fair board was hardly more than organized, nothing like the rush that has developed was expected by even the most optimistic members of the organization.

Not only are industrial firms begging for space, but the farmers of the county are also unusually active in behalf of the annual event and are showing great interest in arranging the displays of their various farm centers. The fair will be held on East Fifth street, on the same site utilized last year.

CAMERAMEN TO RECORD FROLIC OF ROTARIANS

Movie queens will have nothing on 500 of Southern California's Rotarians after today.

For, according to the announcement made by Charles L. Davis, generalissimo of the big Rotary picnic at Orange county park this afternoon and tonight, there were to be movie directors on the scene buzzing about with their cameramen.

Next week Rotarians from Long Beach, Huntington Park, San Pedro and all of the Orange county clubs may go to the movies and see themselves frolicking about at Orange county's playground, it was predicted.

Leaving Santa Ana at 1 p. m., the local club was to meet the club from Anaheim, Orange, Fullerton, Huntington Beach and the three outside the county at the Orange Plaza at 1:30 and arrive at the park at 2 o'clock, when Elmer Heidt, chairman of the sports committee, was to blow his little whistle for the fun to begin.

Contests for everyone, including the women and children were programmed.

One of the unsurpassed dinners served by Duffy of the Elk's club was scheduled for 6 o'clock, to be followed by an evening of entertainment. Professional entertainers from Los Angeles, including the original dancers of the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," were to add to the frolic. Dance music was to be provided by Chapman's orchestra.

One of the interesting events of the evening was expected to be the presentation of the Huntington Beach Rotary club's charter by Paul Reiger of San Francisco, district governor.

Blast of Chemicals Kills One; Two Hurt

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—One man is dead and two others are suffering from serious burns today as the result of an explosion in a dry cleaning plant here.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN HANNON, wealthy ranch owner, his blind wife, BELLE, and their beautiful daughter, VAL, live happily together in Hannon's wonderful home, Paradise, Redstar, king of the Red Brood of horses, disappears from Paradise.

FATHER HILLAIRE, in charge of the Mission, introduces Val to his friend VELANTRIE from the Border. BRUCE CLENDENNING, suitor of Val and favored by her parents, declares he will head the ride of cattlemen to run to earth rustlers who may have stolen Redstar.

Val decides she will accompany them but is persuaded not to by TOM BRISTON, foreman of Paradise and close friend of Val.

Velantrie visits Father Hillaire and confesses his love for Val.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

SO—he looked into Val Hannon's eyes, and his own blue ones said, "I love you," with every glance, while his lips spoke trifles and laughing jests.

At last he rose and took his leave and the two in the garden watched him go.

As he swung from the gate Val's eyes begged mutely "You will come back?" and he hesitated—then flashed "I will."

Father Hillaire stood in the gate and sadness sat upon him like a garment, and the girl touched him twice before he turned.

"What is it, father?" she asked anxiously. But he shook his head again.

"Nothing that I can speak of," he said.

And all the way home to Paradise she troubled over the vague speech—what time she could take them from the glowing dreams that people the high heavens and covered the world with light.

CHAPTER XIV
The Stirling Talk

JOHN HANNON came back to Paradise. In the gold and crimson lightwash of a summer's dusk they heard the far, faint sound of horse's hoofs, and Belle, whose hearing was marvelously acute, caught it first.

She rose from the chair in the shaded patio and held out a hand for silence.

"Hush," she said, and Val and Briston, who were talking, became quiet. Perly's cigarette trailed off his under lip as he listened, for they all acknowledged Belle's superior ears.

"It," she strained her every faculty for a tense second, then her face seemed to break in a thousand places to let her spirit flash out—"it's Lightning's stride!" she cried, "it's John!"

And it was John—John Hannon in the flesh, who rode straight to the patio and swinging stiffly from his saddle, caught her to his breast. He neither looked at nor spoke to any other for a time—he held this woman whom he loved upon his heart and said no word to any.

Between these two none were needed.

But Belle's hands trembled on his shoulders and her transfixed face was white as milk. She clung against him with all her strength and the breath fluttered on her lips with ecstasy. And presently the boss swung her around in the bend of his arm and held out a hand to the foreman.

"Well," he said pleasantly, "how's everything?"

"Fine," said Briston, gripping the outstretched hand, "fine as silk! Glad you're back, though, John."

With a long sweep of his huge arm John Hannon caught his daughter and brought her in against him on the other side.

Val, contained as herself, but smiling with deep joy, laid her soft fingers over his big hand and gripped it hard. The long dark eyes she turned up to him were his own to the last sweep of lash, the last crinkle that attended them in laughter.

"It's been a long time, old man," she said affectionately, "and your women have been true to you. They've watched the trails at dawn and dusk—they've fairly ached to see your face, sometimes."

With one of the rare, the very rare, caresses that passed between them John Hannon bent and kissed his daughter's cheek. Then he turned to the riders who came clumping in along the stone flags, shaking hands and demanding news of the ranch.

To Jose, who came quietly reaching for Lightning's rein, he gave a pointed look and a sharp word of direction. It was needed, for the beautiful gelding stood in the dusk with hanging head and dull eyes, his erstwhile sleek coat eaked with dust and cut by trickling sweat. His slim legs trembled with fatigue, his nostrils shook with the heavy breaths that rattled in his sides.

"Great Pete, John," said Perly wonderingly, "but you've put the red boy through! Th' Black Rustler been chasin' you?"

The boss laughed and ran a hand through his thick gray hair, while he tossed his heavy hat away.

"Not exactly, but I was in a hurry to get home. Been gone long enough—oh, Belle, my girl!"

"Oh, John!" said Belle, and the word was eloquent.

"An' as I said once before," he continued, "there's somethin' by-ordinary in the Lightnin' horse. I'd stake a lot on him if I was bein' chased, for he's got the wind an' th' stayin' stuff of th' Redstar himself, if not the speed. I'd stake a lot on him."

Then his women laid hold on the Boss of Paradise and carried him into the depths of the cool old house and there was much running of feet, and swift orders and the stir of deft hands in the kitchen, while a white cloth was laid on a little table in the living-room, for they must needs feed him at once and bring him a basin of water and a fresh towel. Belle opened the collar of his shirt with her own hands and brushed the hair from his forehead and her soft voice was busy with the doings of their little world all the while.

While the master ate with a hearty zest they told him all that had happened in his absence, even to the raid of the Flying Y and the driving of the eighty fat steers into the Blind Trail Hills, of the dummies that had guarded the pass, and of the slow rage of the cattlemen against the Black Rustler.

John Hannon listened attentively.

"Boyce Clendenning's at the head of things," said Belle, "and what that man undertakes he'll well-nigh put through. I've met him, John—he was here one day—and I hold with you concerning him. He's a real man and no mistake."

"Yes," said Val, humorously, "it's a mighty good thing you're home, dad. I had to hold her to keep her from following him off. She almost fell in love with Boyce."

"Why, you story teller!" cried Belle, indignantly under her own laughter. "John, don't listen to this young upstart. But you know what you have always told me of this boy—of his strength and earnestness. And I think you are right. He is strong and he is very determined. I saw that about this Black Rustler affair. You mark my words that if the Rustler ever hits this country again, Boyce Clendenning will get him."

John Hannon's dark eyes dropped to the white table before him and neither woman saw or felt the sudden flame of fire that flared in them. It was a momentary flash of mad excitement, such as sometimes shows in the eyes of a drunkard or a lunatic. If John Hannon wanted the Black Rustler caught for any reason, personal or general, he might have felt the portent of the woman's speech, have seen the vision of its fulfillment.

In Santa Leandra there was beginning to stir a hidden speech. When next the Boss of Paradise rode into town he heard a bit of it, veiled and covered, but to a range man entirely understandable. It felt the pulse of every cattlemen, and it felt John Hannon's and was satisfied.

"I'm with the movement," he said steadily, his keen eyes giving back glance for glance to those who spoke.

Dyke Atkinson was in that day and he listened with a grim frown, for his right arm still hung useless.

"I'd have 't see it first," he told Sanchez later, "I'm still believin' in magic."

Brideman, big, burly, blond and thick with money, heard the remark and his eyes twinkled.

"Yes," he said genially, "John does seem 't have it, that's a fact. An' yet, you know, th' Black Rustler struck Paradise at last an' when he did he hit it hard, magic or no magic, for that there Redstar horse was Hannon's one best bet."

"If he rides," said Dyke, stubbornly, "I'll believe—a little—an' not till then."

And Brideman's deep guffaw filled the narrow street as he slapped the speaker on the back with a huge and hairy hand.

"Well," he said, "I guess it don't matter much to th' man from Paradise whether any one believes—in magic—or not."

Lolo Sanchez passed that moment with a glance of her black eyes for every man in sight and Brideman looked after her, his bearded face alert.

"That girl o' yours, Sanchez," he said insolently, "is magic, all right."

The Mexican shifted on his feet and reached for a paper to roll a cigarette. His thin brown face, intelligent and quiet, changed subtly. He had never forgotten that day of high play at Hunnewell's when Brideman had invited the girl in against his command.

"Yes, Senor," he said, "she is. Bitter magic. Some day she will stir trouble for some one."

At Paradise the day of the driving among the ranchers was daily diet. Perly, loquacious and open-eyed, gathered all he could from riders on the range and hashed it all over of nights in the lee of the bunkhouse where the cowboys lounged and smoked.

The boss heard and listened and his eyes took stock of every man in his outfit.

Then Boyce Clendenning rode over again, brought Belle some more books, accepted the new ones her husband had brought her in his saddlebags in exchange, and talked long and earnestly with the rancher. They sat out in the patio and spoke alone together, for Val was out on Dawnlight and Belle had taken to the master's dignity in heavy matters. The plans for catching and hanging a man, be he ever so black and guilty, were not things for a woman's ears to her way of thinking—and she regretted Val's eagerness to see them consummated.

Famous Washington Elm Declared Dead

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 17.—The Washington elm is dead. The official demise of the famed tree beneath which Washington took command of the Continental army was announced by Dr. C. S. Sargent, director of the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University, in a letter to Mayor Edward G. Quinn of Cambridge.

Mayor Quinn, it is learned, is eager to raise a fund from the school children of the country for a shaft to mark the historic spot when the tree has disappeared. The trunk will probably be cut into small bits to be distributed as souvenirs among the museums of the country and the Cambridge schools.

NEEDED BARGES FOR TOURNEY PROMISED

BALBOA, Aug. 17.—A temporary shortage of barges available for floats has caused some little uneasiness to the committee headed by Joe Beek, which is in charge of the Tournament of Lights, to be held here on the evening of August 25, but this uneasiness has been removed, it was stated last night, coincident with the offer of the Parkinson dredging outfit to help them out with barges.

A number of smaller boats have already been entered, and tow boats have already been secured.

Plans for the outlining of the Orange county harbor with flares have been completed.

Twelve dozen flares have arrived, and will be placed the day of the tournament at points around the harbor. Upon a given rocket signal, these flares will be lighted simultaneously.

Boy Scouts of the city of Newport Beach have been asked to attend to the lighting of the flares under the supervision of the committee in charge of the work. They will be taken to their posts in automobiles, and returned after their work is completed.

The flares will light the harbor for about four minutes, it has been stated.

A committee of artists is now at work upon designing of the floats. The men in charge of the tournament are looking for suitable trophies to give as prizes for the best decorated float, yacht, motor boat, rowboat and canoe, Joe Beek stated.

"We are having a little difficulty in getting a sufficient quantity of trophies," Mr. Beek stated.

"It is our idea if possible to reward the efforts of everyone in the parade in some way," he explained.

"Last year, we even had boxes of candy to give for those who did not receive some of the bigger prizes."

H. Cardozo Sloan, Balboa real estate man, has offered a silver cup to be entered as one of the trophies.

J. P. Greeley of Balboa and Sam Meyers of Newport have also expressed their desire to offer a trophy of some sort.

The tournament, according to present plans, will be the "best yet" and will merit the attendance of the people of the county, it was stated.

Baby Parade at L. B. May Be 3 Miles Long

The Long Beach Municipal band, famous for its excellent music, will head the first annual Southern California baby parade to be held in Long Beach, on the pier and pier.

Saturday, August 18.

Proceeding the band will be a detail of police clearing all standers from the roped off line of march. It is stated that it is estimated the parade will be three miles long, the hundreds of entries being the basis for the estimate.

Photographers from the Universal Film company will take motion pictures of the parade and the crowds in attendance for the International News Weekly, which is shown in 17,000 theaters each week.

'CHILD WONDER' RECALLS STAGE 60 YEARS AGO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—A dingy cardboard program of entertainment at the old Willows Park, located sixty years ago at the southwest corner of Eighteenth and Mission streets, is an interesting and treasured relic of early-day amusements in San Francisco, owned by "Bob" McGinley of 3056 Grove street, Oakland.

It brings back many cherished memories to "Bob," last survivor of the famous McGinley family of entertainers, noted in the theatrical annals of this city and the state.

He is also probably the only one left of the large coterie of "variety" performers contemporaneous with the McGinleys and whose names were so familiar to all old San Franciscans.

On Stage as Child

"Bob" was only 6 years old at the time yet he figures on the program, dated March 18, 1864, as Master Bobby McGinley, the "child wonder," as a violinist. Ben Cotton, the versatile minstrel of those days, was manager of the show, and the artists appearing included Walter Bray, banjo artist; Lew Rattler, the popular minstrel; the Chapman family, versatile dancers and all around performers; Frank Hussey, the World Sisters, Billy Shepard and the Morgan Family.

The Willows, one of several outdoor amusement parks, was managed by Frank Kelly, and like the Russ and City gardens, Hayes park and Woodward's gardens later, was always crowded by amusement loving San Franciscans, and managers and artists profited handsomely.

McGinley Acquires Fame

Bob McGinley became famous as an impersonator, humorist and violinist, and through his long stage career was known as the "man of many faces." For years he traveled far and wide with a one-star show, himself as the star. Dressed in character roles, such as a "down-East Yankee," "rollicking Irishman," "a Hoosier boy," "a jolly old man," and the like, he entertained with comic banjo songs, violin tricks and imitations and a "Swiss bell-ringing" act, he being able to play tunes on two bunches of bells held in either hand. He was also, with his wife, Eva, a star at the Orpheum when it was first opened here thirty years ago.

Still hale and hearty, McGinley is as full of music as he was when a "child wonder," and with his quaint costumes, and his fiddle, banjo and bells, he yet makes frequent trips through the mining regions of the Sierra foothills where in the long ago the McGinley family shared the applause of the bearded miners of the camps with Lotta Crabtree and reaped the golden harvest of nuggets which the miners used to toss to their favorite entertainers.

He is a great favorite with all the old timers that are left and with all other residents among whom traditions of the McGinley family have been handed down.

23 of 36 Stolen Autos Recovered

Sacramento, Aug. 17.—Twenty-three of the thirty-six automobiles stolen in Sacramento in July were recovered by the police, Chief of Police Barney McShane announced.

During the month 797 arrests were made, 92 for violation of city traffic ordinances and 120 for violations of the state motor vehicle law.

Man Tests Wright Act Before Police

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Laurence Keane, 2946 Twenty-third street, who made an official test of the constitutionality of the Wright act by drinking from a bottle in front of a policeman, was arrested again at his home by federal prohibition agents.

When the officers forced their way past Keane, who had opened his door in response to a ring, they found John O'Brien, Keane's alleged bartender, pouring a quantity of liquor into the sewer. Enough was seized, according to the agents, to complete the government's case. Keane lost his test case in the state courts. This time he will appear in the federal courts.

GOAT ISLAND IS SCENE OF RAID BY VANDALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Charges that organized gangs have invaded Goat Island by night and systematically plundered public buildings have been laid before the harbor police by Captain George Landenburger, commanding officer of the navy receiving ship, Captain Landenburger stated that acts of vandalism have been committed by the thieves, who have even torn lighting fixtures from the walls in the handsomely appointed homes, which have been empty since the training station was closed July 25.

Stating that valuable government property is being endangered by the conditions, Captain Landenburger asked that the officers in charge of the police boat be instructed to afford protection to the island. He also applied to the department of the Pacific of the marine corps for a guard of marines to watch the points on the island where parties bent on theft and destruction might land.

Instructions have been issued to the naval men operating boats between the island and the piers to demand passes of all visitors and to use their discretion in admitting persons of questionable appearance or conduct to board these boats.

Captain Landenburger will lay before Rear Admiral Luther E. Gregory, chief of the bureau of docks and yards of the navy department plans for the early occupation of the vacated building by the officers and enlisted personnel of the U. S. S. Boston, which is being used as the receiving ship.

If these plans are approved the bluejackets who are now living in crowded quarters on the Boston will move into spacious barracks, with libraries, swimming pool, clubrooms and many other conveniences.

Sacramento River Will Be Uncorked

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Notices have been sent out by Major U. S. Grant III, district engineer for the war department in San Francisco, that the Sacramento river channel at Horseshoe bend, between the Rio Vista, will be closed for three or four months while the government carries on its work of uncorking the river. River transportation will not be hampered, however, as Major Grant says vessels can use the channel through what is known as Horseshoe cut.

Building activity soon will be changing the aspect of the southeast business corner at Broadway and West Fourth street. Advice was received here today that a contract for construction of the four-story Walter L. Moore building, on the site of the building now occupied by Mateer's drug store, has been let to Hill and Rinard, local contractors, for $78,000. The contract calls for completion in 150 working days.

Newton Thornton, local architect, who drew plans for the building, has been preparing the necessary contracts. He said that actual building would begin immediately. Beginning of the new Walter L. Moore building has been accepted by property owners of the vicinity as the signal for other new buildings in harmony with the larger structure, it was reported.

The Moore building has been planned as a four-story office and store building. It will be erected on the foundation of the present single-story structure. Thornton's plans and specifications call for brick, with terra cotta trimmings.

The contract provides for maintenance of the present Mateer drug store in the premises during construction of the new building. In the new building, E. T. Mateer, proprietor of the drug store, will take over the entire ground floor facing on Fourth street. A store room, 25x40 feet, will face on Broadway.

Mateer has leased the entire building, including the three office floors. He has released many of the offices, many of which have been adapted for use of doctors and dentists, it was reported.

The drug store proprietor plans an investment of $15,000 in new equipment for his establishment. The entire building is expected to represent an investment of $100,000, at least.

Third Annual Frolic For So. Cal. Journeymen Is Fixed For Tomorrow

Up in the confines of beautiful Orange county park, where all is serene, and where there is not the rumbling of printing presses, the smell of ink, or founts of heavy type, members of the Orange County Printers' association, joined by their families, and scores of Southern California printers, tomorrow will hold their third annual picnic.

While this is going on, virtually every printing shop in Orange county, and many in the Southland, will be closed. The frolicking is scheduled to get under way about 10 a. m.

The program for the all-day jollification, announced today by Jack Horsley, chairman of the publicity committee, includes a baseball game between the supply men and the "Comps," numerous footracing contests, sack races, jumping, and other athletic events calculated to limber up the joints of the craftsmen.

To Take Own Lunches. Every picnicker has been asked to bring his own basket lunch. The refreshment committee has made arrangements to furnish ice cream, sugar, cream and coffee. The eats will be devoured, according to the program, between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Immediately after lunch, community singing, led by Sam Carlisle of Santa Monica, will be featured, after which Marshall Sanderson of Long Beach will deliver a brief address.

The rest of the afternoon will be given over to the sporting events. The hours from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening will be devoted to dancing in the pavilion. A good orchestra has been obtained to furnish the haunting melodies, Horsley said.

Committees Announced. The committees in charge of the picnic follow:

General committee—A. V. Douglass, chairman, La Habra; C. E. Stewart, Santa Ana; E. B. Reynolds, Fullerton.

Refreshment committee—Pickering, chairman, Santa Ana; Raymer, Brea Progress; Hart, Santa Ana.

'Cockney American' Twist to Language Interview Bares Scribe's Woe

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT

"Yes, we have no feature yarns," declared the city editor. "Here is an interesting little paragraph regarding so-called 'Cockney American' as applied to the music world by Edward Branscombe, leader of the Westminster Glee Singers now away off in Australia. I wonder if Santa Ana musicians would agree with him? or if the 'Yes! We have no bananas' attitude is so universal here that there would be an exciting flurry of disagreement?"

I looked at the story the chief spoke of and found that Branscombe had been discussing the influence of discordant vibrations and declared that what he called "Cockney American" was the most offensive of the musical languages to the trained musical ear.

Local Angle Wanted

"You know," continued the city editor, meditatively, "it is said that a certain amount of slang adds picturesqueness and strength to any spoken language. Can it be possible that jazz and the quaintly twisted words and ungrammatical settings of our American jazz kings are really adding a semblance of strength to the music of the world and only appear rude and ugly to the trained ear because of their newness, just as slang expressions first shock then amuse and then captivate us? How about finding out just what the musicians of the city think about it?"

I sought the interviewer's first friend, the telephone directory. Selecting the names of a score of well-known musicians and teachers of both schools of music, standard and jazz, I went to work, serene in the belief that the results would prove of interest to readers.

Burglar Sentenced

MODESTO, Aug. 17.—B. A. Sutter, wanted in Modesto on a charge of burglary founded upon the theft of Griffin, Boone & Boone, was to be sentenced in Los Angeles on a charge of first degree burglary.

According to information received by Sheriff G. M. Higin, Sutter was convicted of stealing typewriters from four offices in that city, after gaining admission to the offices under pretense of being a typewriter salesman.

Other Beaches Follow

Chronologically, it appears that Balboa is setting the beach styles for the whole South coast, and even for Avalon, where the ducks made their appearance last week, it was said.

And here's where the Balboa duck addict has it on her sister of Avalon or any other beach resort. She has not only adapted the white ducks as a permanent part of her attire, but she also has taken to decoration thereof.

Cartoons or clever little phrases, neatly penned or painted on lady's trousers by her chums of the beach, are adorning the white togs.

Demand Pressing

Toggery merchants at the beach are frantic in their efforts to keep Flap, flap, here's another one. The latest flap of the Balboa beach flapper is a pair of white duck trousers.

There's nothing feminine about this new steal from mere man's wardrobe. The beach girls are wearing real honest-to-goodness trousers, with pockets, belts, and all.

This new flap has been in the process of development for some time, but it is reaching a stage where it is no longer a fad, but has become a style. In fact, a few daring damsels appeared at Balboa in white duck trousers, worn over their bathing suits, long before the ducks appeared with feminines in them at other resorts along the coast.

My contention is that we gain more when we tell the exact truth than would be possible if we were to seek to evade responsibility.

Orange county, as I see it, has no reason to apologize for her climate, her soil, her advantages and her living conditions. If we say, for example, that the temperature never gets above 72, 75 or 80, we are not stating the exact truth. If we say it never falls below 41 we are stretching the truth.

A far better way is to tell the truth, which is that our climate is as nearly equitable as you will find in the west; that you can always sleep nights in the summer heat and always drive your car in winter; that there are dry periods and wet periods; that these are some of the things that make Orange county the finest county in the United States, and that we can prove these things because they are absolute truths.

"Orange county is one of those rare communities that stands on its own merits. You do not have to misrepresent when you boast Santa Ana and Orange county. The facts speak for themselves."

Practical Notes on the S. S. Lesson

Prepared for The Register by Cal. Ogburn

Lesson for August 19. Acts 6:8-15; 7:54-60. Stephen the Martyr. "And Stephen, full of grace and power, wrought great wonders and signs among the people."—v. 8. Stephen was no longer of the mediocre class. He had risen above ordinary people. What he was doing was attracting attention. He was subjecting himself, as all do who are in the limelight, to a test that was severe. He was popular with a great many, and equally unpopular with others. Like Stephen, a great many aspire to higher things. It is probably innate in human nature. But aspiration is so often crushed in the beginning of its manifestation that it is not again attempted, therefore many go listlessly or indifferently through life. Stephen was commendably aspiring. He would not be content with what satisfied others. He greatly desired to live and to act on a higher plane—and he did, by paying the price, as all must do. He was selected as one of the deacons of the church in Jerusalem. An office evidently that he did not seek, ambitious and aspiring as he was. There was no "political wire-pulling" to get the nomination. In this Stephen would put to shame some modern ecclesiastical office seekers. But his aspirations and efforts were that he might be capable of filling the place of a deacon whether requested to do so or not. A very laudable and commendable ambition. He was a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit. Had he not been a man so qualified the apostles would not have believed him eligible for the office that he was chosen to fill. If the apostles were selecting church deacons now, would they have any difficulty in finding Saint Stephen's successor? Deacon Stephen did "great wonders and signs among the people." He could have been an acceptable deacon without this. But he was one of those who would not limit his efforts in serving the people. "To the extent of my ability" must have been his motto. He was in office and that gave him authority—of a certain kind. But Stephen, in office, held his position for the reason that he aspired to be unselfishly useful. "There arose certain of them that were of the synagogue."—v. 9. The man who has lifted himself above other men must expect opposition. Popularity is as evanescent as the morning dew. What Stephen did and said drew the fire of a whole battalion of his enemies. In their estimation he was adding insult to injury, as it were. He had forsaken the faith of his fathers—sacred since the time of Abraham—and had espoused the cause of

HIGH PRICE OF FRUIT IN EAST REVELATION

Gerhard Brunnsen of Tustin has been traveling throughout the East and Middle West for several weeks, but all the time, judging from letters and newspaper clippings he sent The Register, his heart has been in Santa Ana. For instance, in the letter received from him today, dated August 11, Omaha, Neb., the concluding paragraph reads: "9:20 p. m.—thunder, lightning and rain. It has been so hot and sultry today that I am almost exhausted. Thank Heaven, if nothing happens to prevent, I shall be on the train at 12:30 a. m., August 14, headed for California again. This is no place for me." In the same envelope came a letter from New York, dated July 9. In this letter Brunnsen quoted some interesting retail prices on fruit: "Oranges 15 Cents Each. 'At 233 West Twenty-Third street, medium-sized oranges, 15 cents each or two for 25 cents; some inferior oranges 10 cents and 5 cents each; Bartlett Pears seven cents each or four for 25 cents; peaches 7 cents each or four for 25 cents. Street peddlers are selling plums and peaches ten for 40 cents." "307 Thirty-Fifth street—lemons and oranges three for 10 cents; small and old." "Jacob Drum, 440 Ninth avenue—peaches 5c each, and some of very poor quality two for 5 cents." "271 Thirty-third street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues—peaches 5 cents each, lemons 5 cents each, cherries 40c per pound, pears 5 cents each." "Corner Thirty-Seventh street and Eighth avenue—apples 6 and 7 cents each, pears 5 cents each, plums three cents each or 2 for 5 cents each." "706 West Eighth avenue—cabbage 5 cents per lb." Omaha Prices Listed Brunnsen also quotes retail fruit prices prevailing in Omaha as follows: "Plums 25 cents dozen, apricots 25 cents dozen, cherries 35 cents, 40 cents, 50 cents and 60 cents per pound, apples 5 cents each, oranges 5 cents each. At the Union station in Omaha oranges were 10 cents each." These prices are very interesting in view of the fact, he noted, that hundreds of thousands of tons of the very finest of fruits of various kinds, especially apricots and peaches, are rotting on the ground in Southern California. Most of the clippings sent to The Register by Brunnsen relate to weather conditions. One dispatch, dated Chicago, August 11, is headed: "Terrible Chicago Storm Leaves Ruin in its Wake—Tree Uprooted by Gale and Flung Across Streets and Upon Houses—Traffic Is Suspended." Storms Played A local item in the Omaha World-Herald of August 12 is headed: "Heavy Storms Sweep Northern Nebraska—Severe Winds and Hail Level Crops Around Laurel—Rain Terrible—Wires Struck Down." "Walsenburg, Colo., August 12—"One Killed—Property Damaged in Cloudburst." Genoa, Neb., August 12—"One Fatally Struck By Lightning—5 Unhurt." Chicago, Ill., August 11—"Two Persons Are Killed During Storm in Chicago." Bismarck, N. D., August 11—"16 Inch Hail Stones Fall at Sturgis, S. D." Cedar Rapids, Ia., August 11—"Lightning Kills Two in Cedar Rapids Park."

White Trousers at Balboa No Fad But Style for Maidens

(Continued from Page 9.) up with the demand for the ducks. It is said that brothers and masculinized girls of the white trousers seekers have meekly submitted and even like to see their sisters and their best girls flapping about in their jeans. "Don't you think it's cute?" one of the girls asked the photographer, as he hovered about waiting for the duck addicts to pose for the accompanying picture. Vanity cases are not worn with trousers and the girls demonstrate that they can wear them with or without belts. A brilliant rubber bandana worn about the shoulders, completes the costume of ducks and swimming suit. Straw Hats, Too If the beach maids be really dressed up, they add a ravenly-edged straw hat that looks as if Mexican sombreros, and the most clothes one adds to the outfit might be a sleeveless sport jacket. That's all, and they wear them from early morning until time to dress for the dance at night. One very proper mother was heard to declare that she thought the idea a clever one and the trousers really much more modest than just a bathing suit. Thus a new style is born and for once the flapper seems to have pleased everyone.

MURDER PLANT MAY PRECLUDE ARSON TRIAL

With the announcement in dispatches from the North that a charge of murder as well as arson would probably be filed in Sacramento against Fortunado B. Padilla, Mexican asserted firebug, it was believed today that local authorities, who captured Padilla and have been preparing to try him for arson, will turn him over to the Sacramento authorities for trial on the more serious charge. An asserted confession, said to have been made by Padilla in a Sacramento jail in confidence to an ostensible "burglar" cell mate, who was in reality a disguised officer "planted" there, revealed a career of fire lighting extending over a period of three years and covering the Pacific coast from Seattle to Orange county. When the Fullerton officers apprehended Padilla several weeks ago they halted a campaign of incendiaryism that is estimated by the State Arson board to have cost $5,000,000 in property and ten lives. The burning of the Buddhist school at Sacramento last April 15 caused the death of ten Japanese school children and it is upon this crime that the proposed murder charge against Padilla would be based, it was said. Padilla, who was transferred to the Sacramento jail from this county recently to permit his testifying in a grand jury trial, was quoted as admitting satisfaction in burning the homes and buildings of Japanese, to which race he was said to have confessed an antipathy. Much of his northern activity was directed toward destroying Japanese owned property in Fresno. Between January 16, 1921, and April 15, 1923, he set fire, it was said, to thirteen Japanese homes, churches, schools or schools; all at Fresno, excepting the Buddhist school at Sacramento. Another revelation said to have been made by Padilla in his Northern confession was that he had deserted from the United States army during the World war and that he had a prison record for burglary. Following the burning of the school, in which the children perished, Padilla's activities were transferred to Southern California. A series of fires in San Bernardino, Colton and Riverside, were followed by a two-day reign of incendiaryism in Anaheim and Fullerton. Fires were discovered in two packing houses in Anaheim one night. The next afternoon and evening Fullerton firemen fought six fires, which caused a damage of about $2,000. Padilla was picked up by the Fullerton police on suspicion. Subsequently, he was alleged to have made a complete confession to the officers.

Oliver Growers Plan New Grading Method FRESNO, Aug. 17.—New methods of olive standardization have been adopted by the California Olive growers, and the California Olive association, it has been announced by T. B. McKelvey, trustee of the growers. A method of grading, similar to that used in the prune industry, has been adopted, and from now on, instead of grading by calipers, as in the past, grading will be done according to the number of olives to the pound. The grades have been established as follows: Small, 135 to the pound; medium, 113 to the pound; large, 98 to the pound; extra large, 82 to the pound; mammoth, 70 to the pound; giant, 60 to the pound; jumbo, 50 to the pound, and colossal, 40 to the pound. The first five, however, are the standard varieties, the being very few of the larger varieties grown here. The standards apply mainly to the Manzanillo and Mission varieties. 500 Cows Cullied In Stanislaus County MODESTO, Aug. 17.—Through the work of the Stanislaus County Cow Testing association 500 cows were culled during the year from the herds in the county, only high producing and desirable cows being left in the tested herds. Five thousand five hundred animals were tested.

STORAGE UNITS INNOVATION TO SANTA ANA

(Continued from Page 9.) ville or Monte Carlo next summer. That is the opportunity that will offer itself, when plans the Santa Ana Transfer company now has in mind are completed. The boxes will be very much larger, of course, than the common or garden variety of safety deposit box. In fact, they will be private storage rooms. Like the individual safety boxes at the bank, however, the rooms will be rented out. It will be your way to keep moths, burglars, and other undesirable away from your precious belongings pending your return from your journey. Take 5-Year Lease Raymond Dickinson of the transfer company made all this known today when it was learned that his organization had closed a five-year lease on the basement and second floor of a new building that Fred Avas is erecting at the southwest corner of West Fourth street and Van Ness avenue. Included in the lease to the company also is office space on the first floor. Avas at first planned to construct only a one-story building, which, he said, would have cost between $18,000 and $20,000. Later, negotiations between himself and the transfer concern resulted in Avas' decision to add a basement and a second story, at an additional cost of approximately $12,000. January 1 Set The monetary consideration involved in the lease was not made public. The lot is 125 by 85 feet. The Moreland Truck corporation has leased sixty feet of the first floor frontage. The transfer company will occupy for its offices twenty-five feet immediately to the west. Dickinson said that an electric elevator would be installed. There will be private storage rooms for pianos, for rugs and also for trunks. The basement will be large enough to permit of the storage of between fifty and sixty automobiles, Dickinson said. The building is expected to be completed by January 1. S. A. Girl Pioneers Field As Hospital Service Secretary (Continued From Page 9.) the hospital or about the wards, she wears a trim blue uniform. She is thoroughly a business girl. Some of the duties of a hospital social service secretary were outlined by this newest addition to the county hospital staff. They follow: The secretary is first of all a hostess at the hospital. She meets the patients when they arrive, and after a word of encouragement, she explains the hospital, its duties and its routine. Social History Taken. As each patient enters the hospital the secretary receives from him what is called a social history. She records all facts which may be useful in solving the patient's social problems, if any. Such information as will assist the hospital in setting the amount the patient should pay also is obtained. How many persons there are in the patient's family, how much money each is making, what the home conditions are, age and previous hospital records—the answers to these queries are filed. "The social diagnosis is often very valuable in the medical diagnosis," Miss Lyon said, pointing out that many times, a worry or a distress of some kind which the medical diagnosis may not reveal, often will be revealed by the social diagnosis. Would Solve Problems. With the social history at hand, the secretary then attempts to solve whatever problems may be troubling the patient. She makes a daily visit to the wards, administering sympathy and cheer as she goes. She tells the patient how the home is getting along, and learns from the patient of anything which she may do to put his or her mind at rest. It is the social secretary's duty to see that patients have all letters written, or read to them, and that any business they desire transacted is attended to. Providing of books, magazines, entertainment and comfort of all kinds for the patients all come under the secretary's duties. "It is furthermore the duty of a hospital social service secretary to work with the agencies to see that all obstacles which may prevent a person from coming to the hospital are removed," Miss Lyon said. "I recall one case in which the mother needed hospital care, but could not leave a little girl at home. The secretary's duty in this case was to find a place for the little girl to stay while the mother was in the hospital. The social service secretary does not forget the patient after he leaves the hospital. One of my duties is to follow each case until the patient is on his or her feet again." Such tasks as assisting the patient to find work and working with other county agencies to see that home conditions are such that work aid received at the hospital would be permanent, also are on the secretary's list. "A social secretary's duties are really unlimited," Miss Lyons declared. She pointed out that the local field, which is ever widening as the secretary builds up contacts with the homes of the patients, includes the ninety patients now at the hospital. Miss Lyon, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyon, 809 Bush street, this city, is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and of Mills college, in the class of 1922. She also holds a certificate from the special graduate course for social workers, given by the University of California. The course includes considerable actual work in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley. As a result of this course, Miss Lyon is thoroughly conversant with the latest methods in social work, from research and investigation, in case work, to inside work, such as that of a hospital hostess.

Antioch Almond Men Are Harvesting Crop

ANTIOCH, Aug. 17.—Almond men throughout this section of the county have been busy harvesting crops. Fair prices are expected for almonds this year. Some growers suffered losses through frosts this spring, but the general crop throughout this district is expected to run greater than last year.

INDICTMENT IN TAYLOR DEATH CASE DENIED

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Holly-wood was tense with excitement today when a rumor, following the recent revival of the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery in Mary Miles Minter's love confessions, ran like wildfire that one of the stars, grilled at length at the time of the slaying, had been indicted by the grand jury for the murder. The star in question was not Mary Miles Minter.

The origin of the sensational report could not be traced, but was promptly denied by the district attorney's office.

Mary sent word to friends today that she is resting at a mountain resort for a few days.

Meanwhile her sister, Margaret, and her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, are maintaining a discreet silence on all subjects touching either on Mary's million dollar fortune, or Mary's charges of jealousy against her mother in connection with her romance with Taylor.

If Mary is elusive, her attorney is more so. He has fled before the approach of newspapermen for the past two days, and has avoided his office completely.

A fleeting glimpse of him disappearing into the Lasky Studio was caught, and this led to reports, as yet unsubstantiated, that Famous Players-Lasky has decided to re-employ Mary at a big salary.

Swimming contests and a beauty parade will be features of the annual beach picnic of the Orange County Officers and Employees' association at Huntington Beach tomorrow afternoon, according to announcement by F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, and president of the association.

All county officers and their families are expected to attend. T. B. Talbot, county supervisor and vice-president of the association, is in charge of arrangements.

The affair will begin promptly at 3 p. m. Lunch will be served at 5:30 p. m., at the municipal lunch tables, east of the pier. Dancing will be the program for the evening.

$500,000 Estate Is To Be Distributed

SALINAS, Aug. 17.—Property valued at more than $500,000 will be distributed to the heirs of the late Mrs. Dolores Munras Allen of Monterey, according to the final account of the executor, T. J. Field, which was submitted to Judge J. A. Bardin and approved by him. Mrs. Allen, who died in May, 1922, was one of the last of the old Spanish residents of Monterey. Part of the estate goes to the four Callaghan nieces, the surviving widow and son of a nephew in San Francisco and the remainder to Mrs. T. J. Field of Monterey, another niece. The Callaghan heirs were represented in court by Judge Charles W. Slack of San Francisco.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR WINTERSBURG GIRL

WINTERSBURG & SMELTZER, Aug. 17.—A group of young people, including the members of the young people's class of the Wintersburg Methodist church and others, with the assistance of members of the family, surprised Miss Edna Phillips at her home Wednesday evening. The event was a miscellaneous shower planned in honor of the marriage of Miss Phillips which is to occur at a near date. Many beautiful gifts were presented to Miss Phillips. The pleasure of the evening was enhanced by the vocal selections by William Phillips, father of the honoree who is a talented singer.

Dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake and cookies were served by Mrs. Phillips during the evening and the group gathered to attend their good wishes to Miss Phillips included Mrs. J. S. Willmarth, Miss Viola Mallette, Miss Iva Dille of Garden Grove, Miss Lucille Soden, Miss Viola McMillen, Miss Lorene Baker, of Westminster, Russell Alford of Santa Ana, Harold Jones, Charles Blaylock, Arthur Murdy, Charles Mallette, the honoree, Miss Edna Phillips, her sister, Miss Helen Phillips and parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips.

"HUMAN WRECKAGE" AT PRINCESS AUG. 21.
There is big drama in the tragic story of America's million living dead—the drug addicted—drama that is powerfully gripping, educational, entertaining, and intensely interesting.

"Human Wreckage," which comes to the Princess August 21 for five days, is a human story of a cross section of community life in America today. It is one of the greatest human interest stories ever brought to the screen. It had to be so to hold the attention of America's picture millions.

As to cast, never before has such a combination been brought together to portray the characters of a great drama of life. Mrs. Wallace Reid has returned to the screen for this picture. James Kirkwood left the big Broadway success of the season, "The Fool," to do "his bit," which is the principal role in support of Mrs. Reid.

In a great scene, in which an American community arises to battle a menace, are police, a mayor, jurists, educators, and civic and welfare leaders in real life. Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles, Dr. R. B. Von Klein Smid—a University President; Benjamin Bledsoe, a United States Judge; Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks of Los Angeles, and others of a community's best citizenry, donned makeup and became screen actors in a great drama.

STAR WEARS BEAUTIFUL GOWNS IN "TEMPTATION."

In "Temptation," a six-reel drama, now showing at the Temple theater, described as being a vital story of restless wives and discontented husbands, Eva Novak enacts one of the stellar roles. Although its producers went to considerable expense in having gowns made for Miss Novak, this star nevertheless spent all of the salary she received during the course of production on this picture, for clothes.

"The producers were wonderfully generous to me," laughed Miss Novak, in relating this incident recently, "in that they gave me carte blanche when they told me to order my wardrobe—yet, after I had spent their money, I found myself still dissatisfied.

"There were three weeks before

Lupino Lane, who heads cast of "A Friendly Husband," attraction at West End.

production work was to be actually started. This time I spent in going to New York where I squandered every dollar I could possibly hope to make for the next three months in buying some Poiret creations.

WEST END AUDIENCE IS PLEASED AT FILM.

The laughter that shook last night's audience at the West End theater, where Lupino Lane appeared in his new picture, "A Friendly Husband," suggested there was more than one "rough riding" camper present! Lane cavorted through five reels of merry action, out in the woods with his in-law family and his sweet little wife.

If you are a camper, don't fail to see the picture. You'll get some ideas next summer. You may be able to use them in more ways than one!

The cast is excellent, including Alberta Vaughn as the wife, Eva Thatcher, as the dreadnought mother-in-law, and others of minor importance. But it is the dynamic personality of Lupino Lane that dominates. He's a little fellow, but how he can cover ground!

REVENGE BY TELEPHONE.
BERLIN, Aug. 17.—Fraulein Erna, pretty young typist, faced the most peculiar charge ever brought in court here. It was getting revenge on her employer, who had discharged her, by telephone. She had all her friends call him up during the night, thanking him for flowers and other gifts he had never sent. She got off with a slight fine.

MORE TROPHIES ARE OFFERED FOR TOURNEY

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 17.—After the Tournament of Lights is over, some lucky person is going to have in their possession a lot on Newport Heights, valued at $1,000, with $500 of that thousand already paid, and two years time in which to pay the remainder.

Offers 50 Foot Lot

W. A. Irwin, prominent real estate man, offered a 50 foot lot on Newport Heights to be offered as a trophy in the tournament which will be held at Balboa on the evening of August 25.

In all probability, the lot will be offered as first prize for the smaller craft entered in the tournament.

"I would like to have the prize go to someone who could really use it," Mr. Irwin explained. "That is why I would like to see it offered for the best rowboat or canoe prize."

"A man with an expensive yacht has the means to purchase such a lot, but the man or woman with a much smaller income would derive a real benefit from this lot," Mr. Irwin explained.

"There are no strings attached to it at all. I will give them a deed to the property."

This is one of the most generous offers that has ever been made in connection with a tournament here. Joe Beek who is in charge of the tournament for the Balboa Chamber of Commerce stated.

Chickens Worth More Than Hogs

BERKELEY, Aug. 17.—California's chickens are worth more than her hogs, according to a statement just issued by the University of California College of Agriculture. City people who have hazy notions about farming will be surprised to learn that three out of ten of California farmers keep no chickens. The other 70 per cent, however, have them to the total valuation of more than $14,000,000, or more than 93 per cent of the value of the poultry kept. The interest in poultry raising in California is reflected in the agricultural courses in Berkeley, a full third are for poultry courses.

Fullerton Chamber Men to Make Tour Of County's Harbor

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 17.—The directors of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce have accepted the invitation of the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce, and will be the guests of the harbor body on August 30, it was announced last evening at a meeting of the directorate of the harbor chamber.

Plans were formulated for a twelve o'clock luncheon, possibly at the yacht club, followed by a trip over the bay.

Details of the entertainment plans for the visitors from Fullerton have not been completely worked out, but will be announced later, it was stated.

The invitation was formally accepted by a letter from the Fullerton body.

LAGUNA CHAMBER FAVORS PORT BONDS

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 17.—The following is the resolution adopted by the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce directors favoring the $1,000,000 bond issue proposed to be voted for the further development of Orange county harbor at Newport:

"Whereas, it has come to the attention of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce of Laguna Beach, California, that the Associated Chambers of Commerce at their monthly meeting, held in Orange, California, Wednesday, July 25, 1923, passed a resolution endorsing Newport Harbor and requesting the board of supervisors of Orange county to call an election for the purpose of voting one million dollars in bonds for the improvement of said harbor.

"Now, therefore he is resolved, that the board of directors of the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce go on record as approving the contemplated one million dollar bond issue, inasmuch as it appears to be an enterprise that must ultimately, and as a matter of course, accrue to the benefit of the entire county, and therefore favor such expenditure of the public's money.

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Newport and Fullerton Chambers of Commerce, the Board of Supervisors and the Santa Ana papers.

"THE LAGUNA BEACH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE."

Pasadena Youth Spends Much Of His Time Near Water, Both In And Out

BALBOA, Aug. 17.—Walter Lawrence of Pasadena likes the water. He spends much of his time swimming in it, sailing on it, and—eating it.

Walter, like a goodly number of other youths at the beach this summer, has gone in for whatever they like. Some of them put on bathing suits to go into the Pacific. Some of them put on suits to lie about the sands.

But Walter puts on his bathing suit to eat watermelon. At least, it looks that way.

How many he eats in a day is hard to tell. But when one looks at his suit, dripping with water, one has to ask whether he has been bathing or eating watermelon.

"Walt" is a member of the popular younger set summering at the beach, is known as a very likeable chap, and has a host of friends. He will attend New Mexico Military school.

"VIKING III" GOES ON SOUTHERN TRIP

BALBOA, Aug. 17.—P. T. Evans of Riverside, with son, William Carey Evans, as captain, left last night with a party of friends on a cruise along the west coast of Lower California in the "Viking III," recently purchased by Mrs. Evans as a present to "Bill." There will be ten days spent along the coast on a pleasure trip. The start was made from the Newport Yacht club. Among those making the trip in addition to the two above named are C. L. Reynolds and Bailey Patterson of Riverside.

The "Viking III" is a trim yacht that has good sailing qualities and recently participated in the South Coast Yacht club and Newport Coast Yacht regatta at Santa Barbara. She negotiated the channel trip in excellent style and Captain "Bill" handles her like a veteran, according to the reports of those who have seen the craft in action under his command.

Chamber Votes Cups To Be Competed For At Light Festival

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 17.—Five trophies, to be known as the "Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce" trophies, will be among the awards in the tournament of lights parade prizes.

The directorate of the harbor chamber, at a meeting last night, voted to offer these trophies, one for each class of entrants, as a permanent thing.

Each year, a Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce trophy will be on the list for the five entrants in the tournament, one for floats, another for yachts, a third for motor boats, a fourth for rowboats, and one for canoes.

Facing a probit by the federal grand jury in Los Angeles, Dr. William R. Price, psychology advocate and instructor, arrested in connection with the famous Orange county "land bubble," today was at liberty on $10,000 bond. ## INSPECTION OF PORT BY NEWS MEN PLANNED

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 17.—Final plans for the entertainment of press representatives of Orange county Saturday were made last night by the directors of the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce.

A number of members had previously called upon the various newspapers, extending a personal invitation to attend the trip of inspection and luncheon Saturday.

The visiting newspapermen will meet at the Yacht club at 10:30 o'clock.

A boat will be on hand to take them through the county channel west to the turning basin; from there to the jetty, and then returning to the yacht club.

From there, the visitors will drive their machines or be transported to the ferry landing from which place they will be ferried across the bay to the Palisades Tavern, where luncheon will be served.

They will return to the Santa Ana road by way of the Palisades road, which trip will give the visiting scribes a full view of the entire upper harbor and basin.

About twenty people will make up the party, it has been estimated. The meeting and trip was planned at a previous meeting of the directors with the end in view of acquainting the newspapermen with the real extent of the harbor.

It is probable that a few short talks will be made during the luncheon. If Congressman Sari Hayden of Arizona can be prevailed upon, he will be present also at the gathering.

CONGRESSMEN NOT TO ATTEND MEETING

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 17.—Congressman Phil Swing in a letter to Harry Welch of the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce, has expressed his regret at being unable to attend the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Costa Mesa on the twenty-ninth of this month.

It was originally planned to have Congressman Swing address the assembled representatives of Orange county chambers of commerce, but a naval inspection tour has prevented his appearing.

Congressman Carl Hayden will be prevailed upon to attend the meeting instead. He is at present staying in Los Angeles. Mr. Hayden is an Arizona representative in the national congress.

STAGE HEARING WARM AFFAIR AT BALBOA

BALBOA, Aug. 17.—The fate of the proposed Balboa-Serra stage line of the Laguna Short Line Automobile Stage company hinges upon the granting or refusal by James Irvine Jr., of permission to use the private road through the Irvine property, it was brought out yesterday at a hearing on the application of the stage company for permission to operate such a line.

Battle of Words

The hearing, held before State Railroad Commissioner Williams at the Balboa Chamber of Commerce, was a battle of words, questions and examinations and cross-examinations which lasted for over an hour and a half.

Clyde Bishop appeared as attorney for the opposition, representing the southern lines of the Pickwick and Crown stage lines.

E. E. Morris appeared for the applicants, Norman H. Robotham and Edward Logsdon, both of Long Beach.

The applicants, through their attorney, placed eight witnesses on the stand, including the owners of the line, and submitted evidence of several others.

The opposition did not occupy the stand, but attacked through the medium of cross examination.

The high light in the hearing occurred when Mr. Robotham from the witness stand, declared that another stage line used to serve the territory into which they propose to go, but that "the service was so rotten they took it away from them."

Commissioner Williams was taken by surprise at this direct assertion, and turning to Attorney Bishop, said, "I didn't expect that answer."

"It's no more extravagant than other statements that he has made," flashed back Mr. Bishop.

No Fisticuffs

It looked for a moment as if there might be blows, but the matter was laughed off by the audience.

All through the hearing, especially when Mr. Robotham was on the stand, the air seemed charged with a feeling every time Mr. Bishop would question Mr. Robotham.

According to the testimony of Mr. Robotham, the company proposes to operate a stage line between Balboa and Serra, serving Laguna Cliffs, Laguna Beach, Arch Beach, Aliso, Three Arches, Dana Point, and Serra.

They propose, according to testimony, to make two round trips daily to Serra and one to Arch Beach.

A local line to serve Laguna Beach was also mentioned. This line will make ten round trips daily, and run between Laguna Cliffs and Arch Beach.

The net assets of the two men were estimated at between $65,000 and $75,000. Mr. Logsdon, on the stand, stated that he owned property at Costa Mesa, Huntington Beach and Long Beach, and had an income of $1,200 monthly from oil.

Want Harbor Route

"The people along the proposed route have all told me they would like to have a direct route to the Orange county harbor," Mr. Logsdon stated.

A gruelling cross-examination was conducted by Attorney Bishop. A peculiar incident occurred when H. Cardozo Sloan, city councilman of Newport Beach, faced Attorney Clyde Bishop, who is also city attorney for the city of Newport Beach.

A veritable battle of words waxed between Mr. Sloan and Mr. Bishop during the latter's cross-examination.

"I have been requested by the board of trustees of this city to appear before you saying that they very much desire to see this service in operation," Mr. Sloan testified.

Mr. Robotham was recalled to the stand, and was reminded once or twice by Commissioner Williams, "Don't argue with Mr. Bishop, answer his questions if you can."

Attorney R. E. Wedekind appeared in support of the stage line. He is a member of the legal department of the Pacific Electric company, which concern is believed to be "with" the stage line people. He did not take the stand, nor did he examine any witnesses.

The consensus of testimony by the various witnesses, among whom were H. C. Hookstra of the Bank of Balboa; Joseph Skidmore of Laguna, E. E. Jahraus, also of Laguna; J. B. Campbell, manager of the Arch Beach Tavern; Mrs. Anna G. Walters of Laguna, and Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce, was to the effect that the stage line is needed, and that need has been expressed by residents along the proposed route.

"I am satisfied that this is a thoroughly pioneering proposition," Mr. Bishop, remarked Commissioner Williams during the hearing.

"Would you accept the certificate from the commission with the provision therein that you would not operate on this line until you had secured Mr. Irvine's permission to use his private road?" questioned Commissioner Williams.

Mr. Robotham, who was on the stand, replied that they could operate from either end, leaving the piece of the road unused, until such time as permission could be received, or until a state highway should be constructed through there.

"The commission is unable to grant a certificate to use public highways when there are no public highways. Neither does it anticipate the issuance of permits in advance, relying on a road that may be constructed," Commissioner Williams stated to Robotham.

News from Orange County

NEWPORT NEEDS EXPLAINED TO ANAHEIM MEN

ANAHEIM, Aug. 17.—A clear explanation of the manner in which the Orange county harbor commissioners would spend the approximately $1,000,000 they ask for in the proposed bond issue was made last night at an open meeting of the chamber of commerce by Lew Wallace of Newport Beach, R. L. Bishop of Santa Ana and Capt. C. H. Forbes of Costa Mesa, for many years a sea captain.

Questions answered. Questions were asked and answered by the speakers. Mr. Wallace presented a number of photographs taken from the air to acquaint his hearers better with the situation at Orange county harbor. "Once commerce begins to flow through Orange county harbor again we will have terminal rates the same as we enjoyed for a number of years after active shipping through the harbor had ceased," said Mr. Wallace.

Urges Belt Line. It is absolutely essential that a belt line railroad be constructed at the harbor to insure all railroads who might build into the port the same treatment and prevent discrimination in freight charges to shippers, the Newport main point of view.

Mr. Wallace attached considerable importance along that line, to the stationing in Orange county of a special agent by the Santa Fe system to look after the "interests" of the road. The Union Pacific has recently taken keen interest in the development of the harbor.

Captain Forbes spoke entirely from the viewpoint of a maritime man. At Newport, he told the chamber men, there is no under-tow and a ship can be handled with entire safety within the harbor, a thing which is not true of certain other ports near Orange county harbor he said.

Captain Forbes offered the suggestion that if several old "tubs" were rammed into Newport harbor that the government would have to dredge the bay to get them out and that the harbor would benefit as a result of the deepening activities of the federal engineers in loosening the "carriers."

The captain also made the assertion that at the present time a large manufacturing concern is seeking a site for a plant near Orange county harbor and that if the deal went through as planned employment would be given to more than 600 men. He would not divulge details.

Mr. Bishop spoke from the viewpoint of a shipper. He explained the work that had been done at Long Beach and pointed to the actual results which have been accomplished. "The true thing is bound to come true," he said. "Time alone can hold Orange county harbor back."

No official action was taken either to endorse or condemn the harbor project.

Pigeon Fanciers to Have Special Exhibit at Fair

The pigeon display at the Seventh Annual Orange County Fair to be held in Santa Ana, September 25 to 29, inclusive, promises to be one of the most interesting features of the big show.

Prize winning pigeons from many lofts in the county will be shown by the proud owners, among them being the fast racing Homer pigeons from the Hoskins Southern California loft at Fullerton.

Miss Velma Nickols, popular Fullerton girl, is here shown about to release one of the swift birds from the Hoskins loft. This bird has made the flight from San Diego to Fullerton several times, its best record on this journey being two hours and thirty-seven minutes.

The pigeon exhibit in last year's fair proved a great attraction to the young bird fanciers of the county. Several local youngsters had their birds on display and keen interest was taken in the judging.

Not to be outdone by the pigeon experts, poultrymen of the county are also taking a great interest in the fair and this section of the seventh annual show bids fair to more than double the poultry department of last year's event.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

Stocks Continue Upward Move As News Fails to Frighten Speculators

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Today's stock market maintained the disposition displayed all the week to make the most of favorable news and to minimize developments of an adverse character.

Although most of the developments of the day were of a kind which would have been ignored a few weeks ago, the forces behind the present recovery had the tide running in their favor. They used as a basis for establishing a generally higher level of prices the advice that Germany might be willing to reopen discussions with the French and the relatively optimistic statement of President Teagie of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, regarding the oil situation.

Little attention was paid to the deadlock in the negotiations looking toward avoiding a strike in the anthracite mines.

American Can, Baldwin and Steel Common continued to display the greatest vigor.

WHEAT PRICES DROP IN SELLING DRIVE

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Grain prices closed irregular on the Chicago board of trade today. Wheat slumped, while corn and oats made fractional gains.

Strength gained in wheat trading during the morning was lost after midday trading when locals, who had been good buyers for the last week, attempted to realize and the market lacked sufficient support. As a result prices melted away rapidly.

September led corn at the advance throughout the day. This was due to the congestion in that delivery and the fear of shippers that they would be unable to fill contracts on account of light supplies. The general market, however, was considerably strengthened by unfavorable news from the central states.

Oats lost some of its early gains in late realizing sales. At one time during the trading prices on all deliveries showed an increase of 3/4¢.

Provisions were fractionally off.

ORCHID HUNTER RETURNS WITH 5200 PLANTS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 17.—Even the natives in the South American Andes are wise that "Americans" are easy.

Consequently the rare and apparently romantic job of searching for large quantities of orchids is nothing but dull diplomacy. This is the report of G. H. Pring, horticulturist of the huge Missouri Botanical Gardens, who has returned from South and Central America with 5,200 orchid plants, giving the gardens here the largest collection of orchids in the world.

Pring's shipment was the only quantity importation of the rare plants into this country for six years, an account of a quarantine. They will be used in a mammoth "mass display" here this fall.

Are Hard to Find

"Orchids do not lay their beauties at the feet of any passerby," Pring said. "They hide away upon trees, shut from sight, one hundred feet in the air."

"Orchid hunting is real hunting. Frequently when the plants are located it is necessary to fell the tree to get them."

Pring's rosy dreams of walking out and picking the best of the plants by the roadside were dispelled before he got to Bogota, capital of Colombia. Through American residents he bargained with Indians, who brought the orchids out. But he never saw the Indians who secured the orchids, the residents explaining that "Fifth Avenue prices" would be charged any one not known to be a resident.

The orchids secured in South America were of two principal classes, the "Cattelya Trianae," a gorgeous, rich mauve flower with broad purple lip, and "Schroederia," another mauve flower with a broader purple lip. The cases of cattelya secured by the native took thirty days "freighting" to reach Bogota.

Albino Type Rare

In Panama, Pring obtained from an orchid enthusiast 300 plants representing 105 varieties, making the largest, most diverse collections of Panamanian orchids ever brought to the United States, and including one of the only two known specimens of an albino mauve orchid. As in animal life, albino types are scarce among plants.

"We made 250 miles by motor a day between New York and here, he said on his arrival. "But it took four days to travel 110 miles by horse over the mountains coming out of Bogota to an ocean port."

The 5,000 plants will produce about $2,000,000 worth of flowers in their ten-year life. Pring said. Each plant produces about eight flowers a year, valued at $5 each. But none of them will be sold.

If it is quick results you want on a deal, The Register can tell it to 8,750 subscribers.

Fly Cobb's triple and a homer by Fothergill gave the Tigers a 3 to 0 win over the Athletics.

Making his first start with the White Sox, Cadore, formerly of the Brooklyn Robins, was knocked out of the box and the Senators won, 9 to 2.

Wintersburg, Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Aug. 17.—The home of Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Parr at Smeltzer was the scene on last Saturday evening of a pretty wedding which united Mrs. Mattie Florence Wilson, sister of Mrs. Parr and Mr. Melvin Eugene Wilson, both of Los Angeles, in marriage. At the hour of eight, with the first strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. C. Ralph Baxter, the couple unattended took their places before the Rev. J. Scott Wilmarth, pastor of the Methodist church of Wintersburg who used the ring ceremony.

A charming after effect was gained by the effective arrangement of pink and blue tinted hydrangeas and trailing asparagus fern which, amid the shaded lights formed a charming corner in the living room where the nuptial vows were taken. Following the congratulatory period dainty refreshments of cake and ice cream were served the wedding party which included Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Baxter, Luella and Gene Baxter, George Abbott, Mrs. Georgia Holmes, Thelma Holmes of Westminster, Mrs. Dell Andres of Santa Ana, Fred Parr of Olinda, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Helen Richards of Anaheim, Rev. J. Scott Wilmarth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr, Muriel, Melvin, Barbara and Charles Parr of Smeltzer and Bernard and Dorothy Wilson of Huntington Park. Two later arrived the son and daughter of the bride and nephew and niece of the groom.

The bride is a daughter of Postmaster George C. Abbott of Westminster and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson of Porterville. After a short motor trip through Southern California the happy couple will reside in Los Angeles where the groom holds a responsible position with the Southern California Edison company and the bride is an efficient operator for the U. S. Long Distance Telephone company.

Mrs. Roy Graham, sister-in-law of J. J. Graham of this place with her daughter, Gladys Mauzanar came Wednesday to the Graham home where they will remain house guests until September. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lyons of Puente arrive for a weekend visit with Mrs. Lyons' parents and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Graham with the above named guests and Mrs. S. T. Burgess who is spending some time at their home enjoyed a beach trip and in the evening an ice cream supper was served upon their return. day night and Sunday near Laguna Beach.

Mrs. George Gothard and sons Joe and Edwin Gothard motored to Colton on Tuesday. Mrs. Gothard and Joe returned home that day and Edwin remained over for a longer visit with his sister, Mrs. Powell.

As the result of some complications in the interior tinting of the Methodist church at Wintersburg services could not be held last Sunday in the building as had been planned. The social hall was used for both Sunday school and church services. It is hoped that the regular class rooms and auditorium will be in condition for use next Sunday. Repair work has been under way the past six weeks on the church building and other church property.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Moore returned last Thursday from a week's motor trip to Chautauque near Huntington Park in the high Sierras. While at the mountain resort the Moores were guests of Prof. and Mrs. Ed Thompson at their summer cabin. Prof. Thompson is a former Smeltzer man.

The Rev. Mr. Wilmarth took as the subject of his talk the devoted Christian life of the deceased who was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of which he was a staunch supporter.

A wealth of lovely flowers, the parting testimony of the large concourse of friends who gathered to pay their respects were banked about the beautiful casket.

128-POUNDERS HEAD NEXT BILL AT DELHI

Johnny Adams Given Main Event Assignment With Frankie Monroe

DELHI CARD
Main Event—Johnny Adams
vs. Frankie Monroe, 128 pounds.
Semi-windup—Young Terry vs. Jack Sparr, 140 pounds.
Preliminaries—Young Hoppe vs. Kid Louie, 122 pounds.
Frank Murphy vs. Eddie Mc-Cauley, 130 pounds.
Johnny Nandez vs. Jack Mayers, 124 pounds.
Eddie Spurley vs. Kid
O'Brien, 124 pounds.

For the first time in two years,
128 pound boxers will head the card at the Delhi arena next Wednesday, Promoter Boyd Ellis announced today.

Johnny Adams, the most consistent crowd-pleaser that has appeared here in months, draws the top assignment with Frankie Monroe, reputed to be the best featherweight on the Pacific coast. If Adams gets by Monroe there will be no stopping his ascension up the four-round game ladder.

The fans will not soon forget that sensational finish Adams uncorked against George Sherman at Delhi last week, when, after being slightly outpointed for three rounds, he came back in the fourth, hammered Sherman from corner to corner and earned a well deserved decision.

Monroe recently returned from a triumphant tour of Australia and New Zealand where he won something like ten out of twelve bouts from the best of the island boys his weight.

Jack Sparr, another old Delhi favorite, returns to mix with Young Terry, the clever Anaheim welterweight, in the semi-windup.

Sparr is working at Santa Fe Springs and a score of oil workers have promised to accompany their idol here.

Sparr received a hair-line decision over Terry at San Pedro two months ago although most of the fans figured it was a draw.

That was the last bout Terry lost.
Kid Louie, Placentia 122-pounder, is down for the semi-windup with Young Hoppe, of Huntington Beach, as his opponent. Louie, in his last two appearances at Vernon, won from George Siros in the second affair, and Eddie Spurley and Kid O'Brien go on in the curtain raiser.

Breaks Into Major Leagues With Two Victories In Day

JOHNNY STUART,
former Ohio State University star, who broke into the big leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals by winning both games of a double-header. Experts predict Stuart is a coming sensation.

STRAMAGLIA MAKES H. B. DEBUT TONIGHT

Jack Iman, Harry Lee Meet
In Semi-Windup; Glick,
McMullen On Card

Huntington Beach Card
Main Event—Rocco Stramaglia, vs. Joe O'Brien, catch-weights.
Semi-windup—Jack Iman, vs.
Harry Lee, 165 pounds.
Preliminaries—Packy Mc-Mullen vs. Scotty Glick, 128
pounds.
Johnny Adams vs. Kid Mark,
126 pounds.
Frank Murphy vs. Johnny McGraw, 138 pounds.
Harley Hite vs. Jimmie Lawton, 143 pounds.

Rocco Stramaglia, Portland light heavyweight, who broke into print because of a certain little encounter he is alleged to have had with Jack Dempsey while the champion was training for his bout with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., will make his Orange county debut tonight when he mills with Joe O'Brien, Cincinnati heavyweight, in the main event at the Huntington Beach arena.

Tonight's card will mark the introduction of the well known Huntington Beach boxer, Kid Mexico, into the realms of fight promoting. Unless something goes astray, Mexico should get off to a good start for on paper he has arranged a bang-up card.

One of the feature mills of the evening is expected to result when Jack Iman, Santa Ana middleweight, and Harry Lee, Huntington Beach light heavyweight, tangle in the semi-windups.

When the pair first hooked up at Delhi several months ago, Iman kayoted Lee in the second round.
Lee has greatly improved since then and is confident he will be able to take the measure of the local boy.

Packy Mullen, one of the best boys his weight on the coast, takes on Scotty Glick, in the feature preliminary bout. McMullen easily bested Wayne Allen earlier this week at San Pedro.

Little Johnny Adams, one of the most popular boys who ever stepped into an Orange county ring, squares off in the fourth fray with Kid Mack as his opponent.

Frankie Murphy, who fought at Delhi last week under the name of Eddie O'Neill, meets Johnny Mc-Graw, a mighty good boy, in the second tilt.

Harley Hite, one of Kid Mexico's protoges, makes his first ring start when he shakes hands with Jimmie Lawton in the eye-opener.

Dempsey Begins Work Tomorrow for Firpo

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 17.— Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, plans to start heavy training tomorrow for his fight with Luis Firpo in New York September 14.
The champion included three rounds of boxing with George Godfrey, his big colored sparring partner in yesterday's workout and he expects to do some more boxing today.

The Dempsey camp is being visited by hundreds daily and it has been necessary to build a high board fence around the cottage where he is living.

HELEN WILLS FACES N. Y. FLASH TODAY

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 17.— One step nearer the prize she has been seeking for three years, Helen Wills, the 17-year-old California girl, faced another battle today against Miss Eleanor Goss the New York star, in the semi-final round of the American women's tennis championship.

Like Bobby Jones, the youthful prodigy of golf, who threatened for three years and reached the championship by meeting the most exacting test the pretty Berkeley miss has fought her way into the semi-final round over the hardest opposition faced by any player in the tournament.

In defeating Miss Kathleen Mc-
Kane, England's greatest player, Little Miss Wills played tennis yesterday that has never been equalled even by the great Mlle. Lengien and her game thrilled with hope the fans who have been praying for her to take the championship away from Mrs. Molla Mallory.

With the game of hearts and the prettiest of tennis, Miss Wills advanced through the tournament by beating Miss Martha Bayard, Miss Ceres Baker, Mrs. Helene
Pollak Falk, and Miss "Kitty" Mc-Kane, and in today's match she will face perhaps the hardest test of all against Miss Goss, who defeated her in the Seabright tournament.

While interest is centering in the drive of Miss Wills for the championship, the other match of the semi-finals between Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. R. C. Clayton, the lone survivor of the British team, may also develop into a real feature.

Firpo-Downey Bout Must Not Be Brutal

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 17.—
The Firpo-Downey ten round "boxing exhibition" will be held at the Hoosier Motor Speedway tonight—if the two principals don't get "brutal" and turn it into a prize fight.

In the event the "exhibition" becomes a prize fight Sheriff Snider of Marion county will step in and halt it. The sheriff was still in doubt today as to the point at which the exhibition becomes a fight but said it would be "brutal"
if Firpo knocked Downey down.

Edison Teams Play Final Title Tussle Here Tomorrow P. M.

nia baseball championship of beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Admission to the game will be free.

The Angelus team won the first game of the two-out-of-three series but the local electricians came back last Saturday and defeated their opponents, 7 to 3.

Santa Ana probably will line up as follows: Hinrichs, p; Tyrrell, c; Cutting, 1b; Benedict, 2b; Roney, ss; Walters,
